OHIO SENATE WON'T ADJOURN

Yoder Says Body Will Remain in Session To Further Investigations

HOUSE TO END WORK

Lieutenant Governor Doubts If Davey Can Declare Session at End

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 23—The special session of the Ohio legislature which opened June 21 apparently ended today so far as the house of representatives was concerned but the senate insisted on working longer

Brief skeleton sessions of both houses were called for this afternoon The house was expected to adjourn sine die in conformity with a resolution adopted two weeks ago

Lieut Gov Paul P Yoder presiding officer said from his home at Baton that the senate merely would meet and go into another technical five minute recess instead of concurring in the resolution which would be necessary to dissolve the special session

No Formal Rejection

In view of the fact that the senate has not formally rejected the resolution but just failed to act on it Yoder said he did not believe the two branches to be in a disagreement which would permit Gov Martin L Davey to adjourn the legislature

Yoder said however that adjournment of the legislature by the governor would not prevent the inquiries

Both houses of the special session have been in technical recess for five minutes since Monday

Unwilling To Quit

Senate leaders indicated that their unwillingness to adjourn was to allow investigation committees to continue their studies of state departments for which Governor Davey seeded appropriations of $50 000. The governor said the investigations were unconstitutional because they were not included in his call for the session

A request to Atty Gen Herbert S Duffy for a ruling on the question was anticipated

The investigations—of the liquor and highway departments and civil service commission—were scheduled to be carried out if Lieut. Gov Yoder leader of a group opposing administration financial policies has his way He announced the committee members would pay their own expenses and that they would hire an attorney

SCIOTO, SANDUSKY SURVEY PROPOSED

Recommendations of a flood survey of the Scioto and Sandusky rivers and their tributaries in Ohio was made yesterday as the senate commerce committee reported out the house river and flood control bills according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington

The survey would be in connection with the proposed $50 000 000 Scioto-Sandusky flood control project which would include construction of several dams on the Scioto Sandusky and Whetstone rivers and of a drainage canal between Marion and Upper Sandusky to connect the Scioto and Sandusky rivers.

FIREMEN SAY FUNDS ON HAND TO RAISE PAY

Full Restoration Reported Possible After Survey of City Finances

ATTORNEY MAKES STUDY

Committee Will Report Results to Council at Meeting Tuesday Night

City firemen today announced the results of a survey of city finances made for them by George T Gerson former solicitor in connection with the fight for restoration of 10% per cent pay George Haines chairman of the firemen's committee directing the campaign said the figures will be presented to city council next Tuesday night

The figures compiled for the firemen show a July balance in the city general fund and the special police and firemen's fund of $23 055 95 Mr Gerson said He also said bank statements for the last half of this year indicate the same rate as in the first half he city will easily be able to restore immediately both the firemen's and police pensions 15 per cent wage reduction

The figures compiled by Mr Gerson are subject to corrections those pointed out by Mayor Smith a week ago at a meeting of the council finance committee and the firemen's division of Mayor Smith's figures showed a deficit in the general fund of $3 313 24

To Attend Meeting

Mr Gerson said he will attend the council meeting Tuesday night if requested by the firemen and explain his figures He said he obtained all his information from the office of City Auditor J L Landes and County Auditor Harry V Mourer

He said Mr Landes told him there was a balance early this month after the first half of July payroll had been met of $9 100 in the general fund Yesterday the city received $ 9140 from the county for the general rate taxes thus bringing the total general fund balance to $18 014 82 Mr Gerson said

In the police and firemen's fund created by the special mill and a half levy there was a balance of $7 056 26 early this month according to the city auditor's figures Mr Gerson said To this has been added $9 954 87 which the county auditor distributed to the city June 7 from the special levy but which has not yet appeared on the city's books Mr Gerson stated The total balance to date in the levy fund thus is $16 041 13 he said

Adding the $16 041 13 and the $18 014 82 in the general fund Mr Gerson arrived at a total balance in funds affecting firemen and policemen of $23 055 95

Two Funds Excluded

Mr Gerson pointed out that in computing his balance he did not include any receipts or expenditures in the hospital or garbage department funds which according to law are set up separately and can not be used outside their departments

Details of the study show that to restore the 15 per cent pay reduction to both firemen and policemen for the remainder of this year only $5 772 would be needed Mr Gerson said He computed this by adding together the amounts represented by the 15 per cent cuts

TWO COUNTIES ASK DEATH OF TRAXLER

Desperado Suffering Wound and Chigger Bites, Visited by Wife

By The Associated Press

HUGO Okla July 23—Apparently suffering as much from chigger bites as from a gunshot wound over his heart Pol Pete Traxler was heartened by visits from his wife and mother as officials of two counties today prepared to demand he pay the death penalty for armed robbery

Hello honey how are you?" asked Mrs Nell Tingley Traxler planting a kiss on the wounded desperado's lips yesterday

Hello Traxler replied wanly scratching his bigger bites from a 12-day game of tag through the woods with the law how are you?

Mrs Traxler is free on $5 000 bond on a federal charge of harboring a fugitive She is accused of hiding Traxler and Fred Tindol with whom Traxler and seven other men fled the Huntsville Texas prison farm She was captured Tuesday when she fainted and was found in the fugitives camp after the pair dodged a posse near Aylesworth Okla.

Traxler was shot down Wednesday and Tindol was slain by the men they had taken hostage, James E Denton an oil field worker and Frank Trimmer a farmer The hostages agreed to testify against the desperado who is under a 99-year sentence for armed robbery

Miss Stanwyck Just Autograph Hunter to Officer

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD July 23 Barbara Stanwyck mistaken for an autograph hunter got the works from a policeman and was rescued by Robert Taylor at the preview of her newest film last night

An officer pulled down on her head as he thought a fan flipped up the actress was not recognized by the officer who shoved back autograph hunters swarming around Taylor her escort

Miss Stanwyck attempted to follow the actor

Now you don't commanded the officer forcibly putting one into reverse

Once safely through the mob Taylor found it was a strange young woman who had hold of his coat tail He rushed on again

Miss Stanwyck kept weeping on the curb rigorously guarded by the law

I'm going to sock you if you don't let her go threatened Taylor

By this time the officer had discovered his mistake

The Goldwyn press department chief Jock Lawrence said Miss Stanwyck suffered bruises on her arms and shoulders for which he received a physician's treatment

EXTEND GRACE FOR REALTY TAXPAYERS

Law Effective Today Gives More Lenient Terms For Tardy Payments

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 23—The state extended a period of grace today to owners of real estate unable to pay all their taxes promptly

A law enacted recently by the Ohio legislature and effective today provides that the full 10 per cent penalty for delinquent taxes and assessments shall not be collected until 60 days after the December and June settlement dates

If the taxes are paid within 30 days after the settlement date the property owner need pay but 2½ per cent penalty Within 60 days the penalty is 5 per cent and within 90 days it is 7½ per cent.

WAGE, HOUR BILL TO GO BEFORE CONGRESS

At Head of List of Measures Awaiting Consideration Before Adjournment

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 23 Leaders placed the administration's wage and hour bill today at the top of a congressional program that may be curtailed by early adjournment.

Majority Leader Barkley said the senate would debate the measure next week

As modified by the labor committee it would let a board fix minimum wages up to 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of not less than 40 hours. Products made by children under 16 would be banned in interstate commerce

The house labor committee has yet to approve a wage and hour bill Influential members however predicted the house would enact one before adjournment.

The concensus of several prominent legislators was that congress would quit between Aug 7 and 15

This, they agreed might mean deferring until next year other administration proposals such as government reorganization and crop control

Neither house nor senate committee has done anything with the crop control and "ever normal granary" program advocated by Secretary Wallace

A bill to continue low interest rates on certain farm loans was enacted yesterday over President Roosevelt's veto The senate voted to override the veto 71 to 10 after the house had acted similarly 260 to 98

The President was expected to ask for passage before adjournment of a bill to plug tax loopholes.

The senate may take up the Wagner housing bill after voting on the wage and hour measure The labor committee met today to give final approval.

DRAFTING OF REVISED COURT BILL STARTED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

Reprisal Fear Follows Defeat of Court Bill

Senators Wonder Whether Punishment Awaits Those Who Killed Plan

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 23 Shelving of the Roosevelt court bill left lawmakers today wondering Will there be political reprisals against Democratic senators who opposed the measure?

Vice President Garner himself kindled one clear after another during pleasant party hours when he said that in his opinion there should be none

Several of the jubilant opponents of the measure expect the relief the Democratic organization's foes for keeping the left wing leadership

Senator McCarran Democrat of Nevada declared however that Postmaster Farley already was trying to defeat him for renomination next year

McCarran and Gardner made their announcements only an unusual session of the senate judiciary committee where the compromise court bill procedure was worked out

Trade were in Garner's eyes scant a mill when he urged the committee to find a formula that would save the party and the nation from continued dispute over the original bill

He has been active in seeking a compromise ever since his return Monday from a five weeks vacation in his native Texas Several senators credited him with enlisting the long battle by persuading Senator Wheeler Democrat of Montana the opposition chieftain commenced

They don't dare take this issue into a political platform

Senator Bailey Democrat of North Carolina another foe said

I don't think there will be any reprisals The war is over The thing to do now is talk about reconciliation.

Several of the Democratic opponents are in the one third of the senate which comes up next year for reelection Unless they must win renomination in a party primary or convention

Main Changes in Court Bill

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 23 Here are the principal differences between the original court bill and the eight point program of judicial reform substituted by senate leaders

The Democratic leaders first bill called for

1 A permanent increase in the size of the supreme court through appointment of not more than six new justices to supplement incumbents who did not retire at 70

An increase in the number of lower court judges on the same basis provided that total appointments to all courts should not exceed 50

3 Assignment of the new lower court judges by the chief justice to help out in courts which fell behind with their work

4 Appointment of a proctor by the supreme court to investigate the need of lower courts for additional judges and to recommend their assignment

The administration compromise bill which would have limited new supreme court appointments to one a year also provided for speedier appeals on constitutional questions from lower courts to the supreme bench

The new eight point program" calls for

1 No change in the supreme court

2 No proctor to assist the supreme court in relieving congestion in lower tribunals

3 No roving judges to be assigned to lower courts by the chief justice and proctor

4 Assignment of lower court judges to help overburdened tribunals by the senior circuit judge of each judicial circuit

5. Appointment of additional lower court judges on a basis of need not age

6 Direct appeal of constitutional questions from federal district courts to the supreme court skipping circuit courts of appeal

7 Intervention of the attorney general in any lower court case involving a constitutional question

8. Decision of constitutional issues in lower courts by a three judge tribunal

2 OHIO CITIES HIT GAMBLING

Authorities of Columbus and Newark Say Vice Checked by Warnings

LAKE RESORT CLEANED

Slot Machines Especially Hit in Ban Ordered in Licking County

By the Associated Press

COLUMBUS O July 23 — A vice ridding drive against gambling resulted today in what a majority of Columbus believe is the finish of every known gambling house in the city

Sheriff Jack Sandusky followed the city's action with a statement that he will enter the campaign through Licking county

NEWARK O July 23 Sheriff Ed D Hogue and Police Chief Curtis Leedy said today that Licking county was virtually free of slot machines and that gambling had been stopped

Hogue and officials of two nearby Buckeye Lake had removed slot machines which were reported to have been making a heavy take

Common Pleas Judge J J Baugh who ordered gambling halted by a permanent injunction refused the Ohio Sales Co an injunction to prevent police interference with its fall machines

He said another judge probably would order her the application next week Mayor Jesse A Grove asserted that Ray Murphy president of the company had agreed to wire the machine alerts to prevent their use pending settlement of the litigation

The no gambling order also resulted in a ban on Bingo games theater bank nights and merchants bank days

The young men all have signed for six month terms of service They left here for Mansfield at 8 a m by bus and from there went to Mt. Vernon.

Quick Adoption Seen for Substitute Which Will Not Mention Supreme Tribunal.

ROOSEVELT SILENT

Administration Leaders Seek To Heal Breaks Fight Caused in Ranks of Democrats

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 23 — Senators who fought for five months over the Roosevelt judiciary bill joined amicably today in drafting a skeleton measure to speed up lower federal courts

They predicted that congress clamoring for adjournment would act it quickly The bill will substitute for the administration proposals which the senate discarded yesterday 70 to 20

Thus the legislative battle of a century ended Opposition leaders called the senate vote complete rejection of President Roosevelt's plan for revising the supreme court

The new measure will not mention that high tribunal It will authorize increasing the number of lower court judges on the basis of need rather than age

Direct appeal of constitutional cases to the supreme court will be permitted and the attorney general will be empowered to intervene in cases involving the federal government

The senate judiciary committee may take up to 10 days to write the substitute

Represents President's View

A high administration official represented President Roosevelt today as believing that further legislation than that offered by Senators Logan and Hatch in his original court bill would be necessary to accomplish his real court reorganization objectives

Notwithstanding the action of the senate in killing the administration's court plan the administration spokesman said the President felt that some progress has been made toward those objectives

But it was added it will be up to congress to decide whether reasonable general legislation is to be enacted

The President was convinced

OHIOANS SPLIT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 23 — Ohio's two Democratic senators differed again yesterday on the anti-lynch bill President Roosevelt's court bill Senator Robert J Bulkley was one of the 21 who voted not to kill Senator A Victor Donahey joined the majority to table the bill back to committee

...this spokesman added that the country wants assurance of continuity toward the general objective of a better performance of the judicial mechanism

President Roosevelt declined meanwhile to comment publicly at his press conference on the court contest in congress

Drive for Harmony

Meantime Vice President Garner and other administration leaders set to work to mend party harmony which Mr Roosevelt's court reorganization proposal had shattered

Senators who had opposed the President on the issue forecast however there would be no reprisals

The senate ballot followed a meeting of the judiciary committee at which an agreement on procedure was reached

Nearly every senator was in the chamber the scene a week ago of the funeral of Senator Robinson of Arkansas the Democratic leader Curious house members crowded in the rear and the galleries were jammed

Senator Logan Democrat of Kentucky whose name was on the administration compromise bill offered earlier in July, made the motion to sidetrack it

Then the supreme court is out of the way" asked Senator Johnson Republican of California

"The supreme court is out of the way Logan replied

'Glory be to God' Johnson exclaimed The galleries applauded

NAVY TO BUILD NO DIRIGIBLES

Long Distance Flights By Planes Show Uselessness of Big Ships

International News Service

LOS ANGELES HARBOR—One highly controversial question about naval warfare—the value of dirigibles—has been settled to the satisfaction of the United States fleet.

As officers and men trained themselves for their annual war games there was no discussion of dirigibles a marked departure from preparations for maneuvers during the past fifteen years.

After the tragic losses of the only three big dirigibles—Shenandoah Akron and Macon—there was a pretty general opinion then in the fleet that no more lighter than air craft would be built that the big sky ships were not suitable for military purposes.

However the death warrant of dirigibles was written by airplane pilots of the fleet who took a squadron of flying boats on a series of long jaunts over the Pacific.

Flying Boats Fill Needs

When these Navy aviators proved that their flying boats could negotiate long distances they removed all need of dirigibles for the only virtue of the inflated bags was that they could cruise far from their bases on scouting missions.

First to deal a heavy blow was Lt Com Knefler McGinnis and his squadron of six navy seaplanes. On the morning of Jan 10 1934 they took off from Paradise Cove in San Francisco Bay and in perfect formation headed through the Golden Gate and west over the Pacific.

The next morning the intrepid officer landed his squadron still in perfect formation at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu—flying time 24 hours and 45 minutes for the 2500 miles.

The planes already had flown from Norfolk Va to the Panama Canal and thence to San Francisco with stops only at Acapulco Mex and San Diego. Their activities were listed by the Navy department as routine transfer of equipment. But they really were out to show that they could perform the functions of dirigibles.

McDade Flight Clincher

The final knock on the head for lighter than air craft was delivered by Lt Com William McDade's squadron of twelve flying boats. Proving that McGinnis flight was no fluke they took off carrying 72 officers and men from San Diego Bay on Jan 28 this year and landed at Pearl Harbor in 14 hours and 48 minutes. Their distance was 2433 miles.

Dirigibles were built for the Navy only for the purpose of long distance scouting. They could get up high and travel far from a fleet increasing back the lines position and direction of travel of enemy fleets in valuable information for sea fighting. When they were built they could get much farther from their base than planes could from carriers.

But as dirigibles cannot fight. Their forte is to hide in high fog banks and observe but once they are spotted they must run for they are a soft target for fast fighting planes. Other drawbacks for dirigibles are. They must have good weather elaborate mooring equipment and their cost is tremendous.

Flying boats on the other hand can fly the distances necessary for scouting, can fly them much faster than dirigibles can operate in any weather short of a hurricane and can fight like a hive of hornets if pressed need no mooring equipment and cost only a small fraction of a dirigible.

In short flying boats can do all that dirigible can do and better and a lot of things that the big bags can't do.

VENDOL RELIEVED QUIVERY NERVES

Enjoys deep sleep and feels rested since her constipation is relieved.

Mrs Mary Campbell of Massillon Ohio, says: "My nerves were so jumpy that I had a quivery feeling all over. Could not sleep well, every noise startled me. Lost my appetite and felt tired and achy every day. A few bottles of Vendol gave gratifying relief from constipation then my nerves calmed down and I feel grand again."

Vendol is made from Nature's Roots and Herbs mixed with valuable Alkalines. It acts as a pleasant laxative bringing out awful gases and impurities which may have been causing you many days of misery from headaches dizziness, spots before the eyes, tired worn out feeling and nervousness. It acts as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys relieving backache pains in the arms and limbs. Vendol relieves indigestion gas bloating, shortness of breath excess acid in stomach sallow complexion boils, eruptions and many other troubles due to constipation.

Take Vendol and you will enjoy such a pleasant cleansing and invigorating effect that you will FEEL like a different person and LOOK years younger.

AGED INDIAN SAYS HE WARNED CUSTER

Knew Sitting Bull Had Huge Force, "White Horse" Copeland Asserts

By United Press

COLORADO SPRINGS Colo—If Gen George A. Custer had listened to Charles Copeland he might be alive today "though of course a very old man according to Copeland a Cherokee Indian with the tribal name of White Horse who says he is 93

White Horse Copeland says he was born in 1844 the son of a Cherokee chief and a mother who came from a line of Norse nobility Age has dimmed his memory to some extent and he talks in a strange mixture of old time phraseology and modern slang

He describes the Custer massacre of June 26 1876

"As brother this is how it was I was there with a band of friendly Indians on our way to an Idaho reservation We were going up there to teach those fellows how to live like white men

We passed through that country (the battlefield) and talked to Custer and Sitting Bull

Sitting Bull was a big shot medicine man and a great general

You know this is not peace I said to Sitting Bull and he said to me I know white man peace they are after my hide

To Custer I said 'They will get your hide brother if you go in there Say brother I know you are a graduate of West Point but don't go in there

He would not listen There were 20 000 Indians there and not a man of Custers force was left

General Custer with a force of 600 men assumed he was attacking a party of 1 200 Pawnees whom he believed marching to join Sitting Bull The 7th Cavalry was outnumbered by the Indians in the neighborhood of 20-to-1

Only one living thing is known to have survived in the ranks of the soldiers the horse Commanche of Captain Keogh

When the smoke of the battle cleared every trooper was dead The soldiers were left on the battlefield where they fell many of them mutilated

Today small monuments mark the Montana battlefield where the men fell and a large memorial stands over the field

MT. GILEAD MILK PRICE INCREASED

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, July 23—The price of milk sold by Mt. Gilead dairymen will be increased today. The increase is one cent on quarts making the price 10 instead of nine cents. Pints will continue to be sold for five cents.

Dairymen, making the increase, said the price of milk here is, even with the increase, still considerably below the price paid in other towns of central Ohio.

13 UNION COUNTY TAX SALES BOOKED

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, July 23—Thirteen properties in Union county, both farm lands and town holdings, are scheduled to be offered for sale by Sheriff Homer Roosa Saturday. The forced sales resulted from actions for foreclosures of delinquent land tax certificates filed by the county treasurer. Fifteen more properties are scheduled to go under the hammer at sheriff sale on Aug. 7.

MARYSVILLE MAN HELD

MARYSVILLE, July 23—Fay H. Elliott, local stock buyer, was lodged in county jail Thursday by Sheriff Homer Roosa on orders of Prosecutor W. J. Porter for having allegedly failed to comply with a court order to pay the costs of his prosecution, $42.22, after he was indicted by the grand jury for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

TONSILS OUT, DOG IS HAPPIER NOW

Spider: Tonsils bothered him.

EL PASO, Tex.—"Spider," the sad little black-and-tan dog, is happier now. His tonsils, cause of a doggone bad sore throat, are out.

What with influenza, bronchitis and finally tonsilitis, Spider was feeling as woebegone as he looked. Then his owner, Davis Green, wrapped his throat in a towel and took him to a veterinarian.

Lady, ask yourself this question:

"How would it look under a spotlight?"

Your choice, we mean. Your choice of what? Anything you buy, say a chair. Not a spotlight in your home. A stage spotlight. Out where every one could see it at the same time. You know. Your friends, people who count with you. Now, how does your choice stack up? Are you happy? Are you disappointed?

The spotlight is a real test all right. Get things out where you can see them. Defects and shoddy can't stand the light. Neither can exaggeration or misrepresentation. Advertising is the spotlight test for things to buy. Puts all attention on one thing. Puts good points down in black and white. Makes comparison easy. Lays reputation on the line. Makes selling on merit alone.

Now what? Make it easy for yourself. Buy advertised things. Regularly advertised things. They take the spotlight test time and again. In the Star. All you do is read. Then choose. You never slip or lose. It's interesting, too, and educational. You learn who sells what. Also, how much things cost and what's new every place. And best, that the better stores always advertise.

40 Et 8 Members Plan 1,400-Mile Trip in Voiture Box Car to Legion Convention

Box Car and Locomotive Rebuilt for New York Jaunt in September.

A [illegible] trip to New York [illegible] in a box car is being [illegible] a group of Marion men. [illegible] Police Chief William E. [illegible] might be well to ex- [illegible] point that the box car [illegible] roughly respectable ve- [illegible] the Marion County [illegible] 40 et 8 has been building [illegible] five years, and that [illegible] are the World war vet- [illegible]

[illegible] will be the first out of [illegible] in the car and will be [illegible] in September to the na- [illegible] convention of the American [illegible] scheduled for Sept. 20-23 at [illegible]. Before going to New [illegible], several of the group [illegible] to drive the locomotive [illegible] Aug. 15 for the state [illegible] convention. The New York [illegible] require 30 hours travel [illegible]

[illegible] the fact that five years [illegible] spent in building the en- [illegible] box car, the job is scarce- [illegible] according to Chief [illegible] who is head of a committee to get the conveyance in shape for the trip.

New Bunks in Boxcar

Great plans are in store—new bunks on the interior, lockers for the men, a kitchenette and lunch room, new air brakes for the 14 wheels on the outfit, installation of a new automobile motor for the locomotive and a new electric system for lights and power for the air compressor.

To raise funds for the improvements the 40 et 8 is sponsoring the second annual motorboat regatta which is set for this Sunday on the Scioto river south of Newmans. Chief Marks said today that regardless of how the proceeds at the race show up, the trip to New York will be made some way or other.

From 15 to 20 men can travel comfortably in the box car, the chief said. Last year 23 made a trip to Cleveland, taking turns at lying down on the bunks and sitting.

The "chef de train" (otherwise the head man of the box car) this year is Ed Harrold, who now has the locomotive at his garage and is installing the new Lincoln automobile chassis under the all-steel body of the engine. Assisting him and Chief Marks in getting the vehicle into condition are Municipal Judge Martin, L. H. Larsen, Robert Martin and William Rizer.

The new eight-cylinder engine was purchased recently to replace the old one which was frozen when it was left to stand on the city parking lot. All last winter the locomotive was stored in a Davids street garage. Incidentally garage space is one of the chief problems of the members. Chief Marks said a building 12 feet wide and 50 feet long is needed to house the vehicle.

The box car is now being stored at the E. A. Schlairet warehouse on Mill street. Remodeling of the car is scheduled to be done after the locomotive is in shape.

Matches French Car

The box car is probably the largest "trailer" in the city. It measures eight by 22 and one half feet and is about 10 feet high, the exact size of the regulation French freight cars from which the name of the 40 et 8 was derived. Plans for the car were obtained from another Legion post which had them sent from France, Chief Marks said.

With the locomotive and tender and box car in line, the outfit is 54 feet long, eight feet wide and weighs 12,000 pounds.

The locomotive is an invention of Chief Marks, who not only drew up elaborate plans for its construction but also supervised the assembly of the machine. It is made of steel and is entirely electrically welded, containing not a single rivet or bolt. It is also welded to the chassis.

Out of the approximately 100 similar outfits owned by 40 et 8 groups in the United States it is believed by Chief Marks to be the only one which has a dual control system. It has two steering wheels, two sets of brake levers—a complete set for both the right and left hand.

It has seven wheels on each side. The tender which follows the locomotive is 11 feet long. It is used for carrying luggage on trips and as a bandstand for the 13-piece voiture band.

The 40 et 8 takes its names from the lettering which appeared on the Outfit One of Most Elaborate of Any Vets' Group in Country.

French freight cars in which American soldiers were transported while overseas. The matter-of-fact French railroad officials had placed on the sides of the box cars "40 hommes et 8 chevaux" which means "40 men and 5 horses"—indicating the capacity of the cars either in human beings or animals.

Hit Funny Spot

The rather humerous classification of men with horses, appealed to the Americans' funny spot—and a great host of 40 et 8 voitures (voiture meaning box car in French) have sprung up.

The 40 et 8 organization is an affiliate of the American Legion and no one can be a member of the 40 et 8 without being a Legionnaire. It is composed of the more active Legion members and is in effect an honorary association, devoted to the lighter side of veteran affairs—conventions, trips, parties and general fun—although it partakes of commemorative duties when the occasion presents itself.

The Marion box car was built in 1932 with the aid of between 40 and 50 voiture members and a generous lumber company which contributed the wood for the car. Two years of scraping together of funds and discussion followed before the voiture decided to build a locomotive to go with their box car. At first regular plans were purchased, but they described a locomotive that resembled a modern American engine rather than one of the donkey French affairs, Chief Marks said.

Some Changes Made

He set about designing a suitable engine and the members approved, authorizing him to go ahead with its construction. It was completed in 1934 and has undergone several changes. For safety's sake, the engine last year was lowered eight inches closer to the ground to reduce the danger of upsetting on the road.

Throughout the history of the outfit, Marion business men have cooperated with the veterans in supplying materials, Chief Marks said.

Only $1,000 has been spent on it thus far because of the fact that all the labor was done free by Legionnaires and voiture members. To reproduce the outfit $3,000 would be needed, Chief Marks estimated. He could give no estimate of how much it will cost to make the proposed improvements.

The second deck below is reached by a wide staircase and contains a shower bath, the ship's office and the smoking room. The latter will henceforth be 100 per cent fool-proof due to helium. An all-electric kitchen and sleeping quarters for the crew occupy the remaining space of the second deck.

All quarters are electrically heated for the winter season and have automatic ventilation. All the power necessary for lighting, cooking and wireless operation is supplied by two generators driven by special Diesel motors. The power plant with the switchboard is situated in a special room which is completely isolated from the gas bags inside the ship.

WATER HORSESHOES

Champion of the new sport, water horseshoes, which is one of the popular diversions at Elk Lake, Portland, Ore., is pretty Violet Walters. This new aquatic recreation is played with giant wooden shoes which are tossed at a stake driven in the water near Shore.

—The— Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

YOU AND YOURSELF

There are times when all of us secretly yearn to be something we are not—to get out of ourselves. Playing the same role all our lives becomes dull and tiresome. We long to "step out of character," as they say in the theater.

In the late Arnold Bennett's amusing book, "Buried Alive," a world-famous artist poses as his own man-servant and has the time of his life, until he is discovered and "exposed" and regretfully has to go back to the social exactions of "being a celebrity."

That is why the average man always wishes he were in some other business or profession. And why handsome, large women wish they were cute and petite; and pretty, little women dream of being tall and willowy.

It is why intellectuals enjoy posing as being simple and child-like, while the prosaic and commonplace try to think of themselves as belonging to the intelligentsia.

A school teacher is always flattered when you tell her that she doesn't look like a school teacher. And a show-girl is almost as *tarnished to be mistaken for a so*ciety debutante as a debutante is to be mistaken for a screen star.

The young office worker at a fashionable summer resort is always delighted to be able to pass for a big executive; while the big executive enjoys nothing as much as getting into some shabby old clothes and going fishing. Among the tall and lofty timbers, he loves to create the impression that he is a simple son of the sod, and is tickled at his ability to clean and cook fish, while sharing a can of beans with some backwoodsman.

At a party it is always the prize "bromide" who insists on getting off all the wisecracks and being the life of the evening; while the professional humorist usually mopes around looking like a dark cloud and never even speaks unless prodded.

Almost all real celebrities are as skittish as a deer, look like anything but celebrities, and will run from a reporter or a camera; while any plain, everyday person gets a big kick out of being mistaken for somebody in the limelight.

And perhaps, for the same reason, a comedian always longs to play Hamlet, and a brunet always plans, sooner or later, to be a blond at any price!

The truth is that we are never quite satisfied with ourselves—unless we are terrific egotists. And even then, we are probably only posing as egotists and wishing we were something else.

WORK ON SUNBURY DAM IS PROGRESSING

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., July 23.—Work on the construction of the 700-foot Sunbury dam in Big Walnut creek is nearing completion. Pouring of the east pier has left only 50 feet to construct. The foundation of the pump house at the west end of the dam has been built and the pipe line from the dam to the water plant in Sunbury has been laid. Work was delayed for some time because of high water.

A used car buyer—more than anything else, wants to REALLY SEE THE CAR HE IS BUYING. He wants to enjoy an uninterrupted view from all sides. He wants the car out in the open. Placed so that he can compare it with other cars. The combined experience of our sales staff totals nearly 50 years of dealing with the automotive public. We know that the desire to "See The Car" has always been uppermost in the customer's mind.

Our new Used Car Lot has been arranged to meet the customer's wants. There is plenty of room and light to permit the close inspection of each car. The parking arrangement has been made to facilitate a comparison of values. The central, permanent location is convenient to all and our large sign is a landmark you can not miss.

Here will be our established and permanent used car sales department. The lot manager will be Mr. Robert McMann, a member of our sales personnel for the past five years. The same fair business practices that we have followed in the past will prevail and we invite consideration from all Used Car prospects, whether straight purchase or trade.

Our Birthday

—The necessary enlargement of our business facilities, which makes the Used Car Lot possible comes at a time when The Danner Buick Company is observing its seventh anniversary. Our opening announcement appeared on July 27, 1930, at which time our business operation was launched at our garage location, 245 North Main Street. Naturally, we feel certain pride and great appreciation for the growth of business, which now results in an important expansion. New Buick car and G. M. C. truck sales, repair and wrecker service, Alemite greasing, motor testing, Kulr Kote refinishing and our office headquarters will be continued at 245 North Main Street, Phone 2137.

Terms and Trade

—Most familiar words in the Used Car Industry—here they carry the dignity and force of many years of fair dealing. We are able to provide a payment plan for almost any requirement. Tell us your problem and we probably can solve it. Our trade-in allowances are made consistent with the prevailing market, we endeavor at all times to be completely fair with our customers, and observe the rules of sound business.

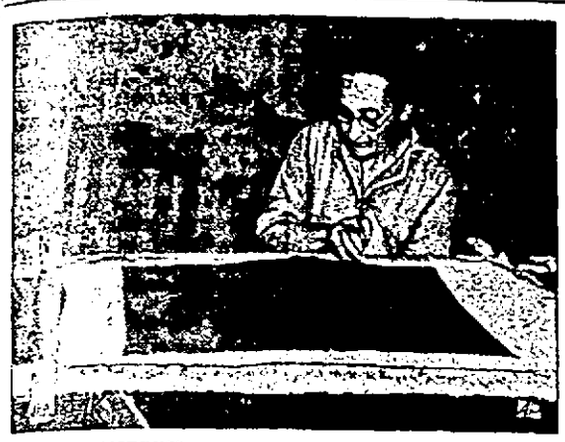
Woman Who Can't Sew Gets Rich from Sewing



RURAL SEAMSTRESS
On a work bench made from saw horses, Mrs. Alberta Wall quilts a pillow case. She is typical of the farm women around Hardinsburg, Ky., who make pretty needlework pieces for millionaires and kings.

By KEN WHITE.
By The Associated Press.

HARDINSBURG, Ky. — This county seat town of 800 people makes a million-dollar needlework industry which caters to royalty, movie stars and millionaires. It was founded 16 years ago by a woman who can't sew a stitch to this day.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Beard, back in 1915 were pondering what to do with their wool. Beard ran a general store here and raised sheep on the side. The current wool price was 10 or 12 cents a pound; they didn't want to sell for that.

Mrs. Beard had an idea. "I'll get it made into some comforts," she said. "We need some."

"Good," said Beard.

She did.

Mrs. Beard

"Maybe I could sell some of them at a profit," said Mrs. Beard.

"Go ahead and try," nodded Beard.

She went to New York.

Business Mushrooms.

"Can't you get them handstitched by some women down there?" suggested a department store buyer. "We can get machine-made ones at a hundred factories. Make something distinctive."

Mrs. Beard came back to Hardinsburg, hired three women to do the sewing and went into business.

For two years she "farmed out" her comforters. Each week-end housewives who did the work delivered the finished product to the Beard home and the Beards packed and shipped it.

Suddenly, the mushrooming business was crowding the Beards out of their home. They built a studio in the back yard.

Five years later Beard sold his store, bought the frame building where he had attended school years before and went into the wholesale needle-work business.

Mrs. Beard retained the back yard studio, organizing Eleanor Beard, Inc., and employing her own personnel distinct from that of her husband. Her business is all retail; his is all wholesale, known as Kentucky Cottage Industries, Inc.

Mrs. Beard now divides her time between Hardinsburg and her main office in Louisville.

"Mr. Beard sells to many stores that compete with me," Mrs. Beard laughingly explains, "so I guess that makes us competitors. But the friendliest of competitors, mind you."

Old Italian Process.

Hundreds of women in Breckinridge and three or four adjacent counties work for either Mr. or Mrs. Beard. They take the material into their homes and work on it when they are not milking, washing or ironing. When it is ready they bring it back for the finishing touches, which are applied in the studio or the Industries' factory.

The friendly competitors both employ a process known as "reticello" (between the stitches), originated in Italy in the 15th century and little used in America.

The design follows a double line. After it is stitched, it is "stuffed," giving the exterior an embossed appearance.

"You know," sighs Mrs. Beard, "I wish I could do that. Surprises some people, but I never have been able to pull a stitch."

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbraith collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

In 1798 the year after Ebenezer Zane marked his trace across Ohio from Wheeling to Marysville, Capt. Joseph Hunter came to locate upon this trace. Hunter was a backwoodsman and he chose a tract of land along the trace in what is now Fairfield county. As travelers began to pass along the trace Hunters' location was designated as "Hunter's settlement."

It was not only the first white settlement within the boundaries of Fairfield county, but the first in the valley of the Upper Hocking river. It was in the last year of the eighteenth century that the tide of immigration into Ohio set in with great force, and Fairfield county received its share of the migration. To Captain Hunter the later arrivals looked as the real pioneer of the county.

Miniature rheostats have been invented that can be adjusted quickly to give desired voltages for radio sets.

CRAWFORD CO. TO GET CAMP FOR TOURISTS

Tract Seven Miles East of Bucyrus on Route 30 North Leased.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, July 23—A tourists park, similar to those being opened throughout the state by the state highway department, will be opened within a few weeks seven miles east of Bucyrus on Route 30 N.

Picnic tables, outdoor fireplaces and sanitary conveniences are being installed and a well drilled for the comfort of tourists. Overnight camping will not be permitted at the camp. The camp is comprised of three-quarters of an acre of land located in a grove of beech trees. An agreement has been obtained from the owner, Elzy Weiser of Crestline, for the park area.

HE ATE ALL-BRAN AND IMPROVED WONDERFULLY

Read this voluntary letter: "In regard to your ALL-BRAN, it is marked on the package 'best as a cereal, best for cooking,' and, as far as I am concerned, you might add best for health. Since I have begun to eat it, I have improved wonderfully."—Mr. H. E. Poole, 312 W. Franklin Street, Jackson, Mich.

ALL-BRAN corrects common constipation, due to meals low in "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs water and forms a soft mass, gently sponging out the system.

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes. In chronic cases, with each meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SPECIAL POSTS GIVEN OFFICERS

Members of Company D Get Appointments For Camp Perry Training.

Three officers of Co. D, one of Marion's two units in the U. S. national guard, have been given special appointments at Camp Perry, O., where a two-week training period is in progress, according to word received from Corp. Robert F. Melby today. Nearly 70 Marion men, members of Co. D and Headquarters Co., are in camp.

First Lieut. Carl F. Ebert of Co. D has been named regimental gas officer and instructor for the 166th Infantry. He received his chemical gas training at the Edgewood arsenal in Maryland in 1935.

Capt. Hubert L. Taylor, commanding officer of Co. D, and Lieut. Harmon Chapman were given honor posts last Sunday in a regimental parade which opened the training period. Capt. Taylor was officer of the day and Lieut. Chapman was named commander of the regimental guard, to which Co. D was assigned.

A brigade review of the 74th Brigade will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Capt. Taylor has invited Marion residents to attend the review and join members of Co. D in a meal in the company's mess hall.

Training schools to which Co. D members have been assigned follow:

Anti-aircraft defense—Corp. Edward A. Throckmorton and Harry E. Baker. Walter M. Flesher and Franklin Sifritt, privates first class; combat principles and gas—Corporals Lawrence A. Edgington and Warren Snider; intelligence—Jack E. LaMarr; organization of ground—Corp. Warren Snider; mess sergeants—Sergeant Leslie E. McGuire; buglers—Roy R. Large, private first class.

Many are the cinema fans who maintain that Joe E. Brown is among the screen's finest pantominists, when given just such an advantageous opportunity to display his comic abilities as he has in, "Riding On Air," his latest film which opened a three-day stay at the Palace theater last night.

The mammoth-mouthed star's latest screen efforts falls under the classification of the better Brown films. It is based on the popular Elmer Lane stories, which came from the pen of Richard Macauley and appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and is relegated to take its place alongside, "Bright Lights," "Alibi Ike," and "Earthworm Tractors," Brown's other successful hits.

Typical shot of Brown in his latest movie is the sequence in which he finds himself battling with a band of air smugglers, while trying to repair the wing of his radio-flown airplane. Without resorting to gag lines or comic dialogue, Brown's antics give the theater-goer as hilarious a quarter-hour of merriment as the screen can offer.

Joe takes the role of a small-town newspaper correspondent for a big city daily. His misadventures get him into and out of trouble repeatedly and even though he possesses the proverbial "nose for news," he usually contrives to score a scoop for a rival paper. He finally resorts to becoming an aviator in order to beat his rivals to the biggest stories in years, and finds himself up in the air, both literally and figuratively.

Guy Kibbee, in one of the supporting roles, supplies plenty of laughs with his portrayal of a confidence man who succeeds in making Brown the goat of a promotional scheme. Florence Rice, the daughter of Grantland Rice, sports writer and commentator, takes the featured feminine role. Vinton Haworth, Anthony Nace, Harlan Briggs, Andrew Tombes and Benn Burt, complete the well-chosen cast.

On the bill is a well-worthwhile "Popular Science," short in natural color. An Our Gang short, news reel, and a comedy "Aviator Shorty," complete the program.—C. H.

HOUSE HIT BY RUNAWAY AUTO

East Church Street Home and Yard Damaged.

A rock garden, shrubbery and part of the siding of the Henry Ackerman residence at East Church and Elm streets were damaged today about 1:30 a. m. when an automobile plunged up over a terrace into the house.

The car is said to have stalled on Elm street and was being pushed by two youths, with a young girl steering, when the motor started up. The girl is reported to have lost control of the car, which went over the curb and up the embankment into the house. Names of the young people were not learned.

The car was damaged slightly but was driven away under its own power.

FLOOD BILL SIGNED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 23—A bill appropriating $50,000 for the relief of flood sufferers in Bellevue and vicinity was signed by Gov. Martin L. Davey yesterday.

DIES IN RESCUE ATTEMPT

TIFFIN, O., July 23 — Dickie Foght, 10, drowned yesterday in futile attempt to save his playmate, Bobbie Daywalt, 7, who toppled into an abandoned stone quarry.

MARRIAGE OF GIRL, 12, ANNULED

Speedy annulment of the marriage of Virginia Shirley, 12, to 21-year-old Harold Toy, cabinet maker, was granted when the girl appeared in Los Angeles court with her father, Clarence Shirley, above. The latter testified that he had never given his consent to the union. Toy, who once before won married to a child bride, was released on probation.

TEACHER'S SLANDER CHARGES DENIED

Saugus Club Woman Declares She Didn't Know Accuser.

By The Associated Press

SAUGUS, Mass., July 23 — A Saugus club woman against whom blonde Isabelle Hallin, ousted Saugus high school teacher, filed slander suits totalling $10,000 declared today "I never said anything about the Hallin girl."

"I don't know the girl, so how could I," said Mrs. Minnie B. McDuffee, wife of Rev. Charles B. McDuffee, Congregational pastor here.

Miss Hallin asked damages of $1,000 on each of ten counts charging slander and procuring breach of contract.

Mrs. McDuffee was served with the writs by Deputy Sheriff Richard White less than 24 hours after the Saugus school committee had refused for a second time to reappoint Miss Hallin as an English teacher.

The attractive 26-year-old instructor had charged she was ousted because of gossip that she served cocktails to students rehearsing a school play in her home, but this the committee denied.

12 PER CENT GAIN IN FARM INCOME

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 23—The agriculture department reported today farmers received a 12 per cent greater cash income from the sale of their products the first half of this year than in the corresponding 1936 period.

A bureau of agricultural economics report placed the total for the first six months of 1937 at $3,503,000,000, or $378,000,000 more than in the first half of last year.

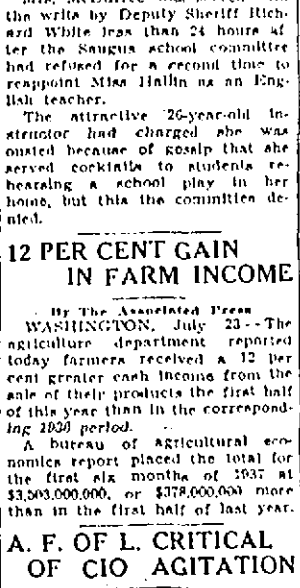
A. F. OF L. CRITICAL OF CIO AGITATION

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 23—Guided by their leaders' denunciation of the Committee for Industrial Organization, the building trades department of the Ohio State Federation of Labor prepared today to voice opposition to the anti-A. F. of L. movement.

Charles J. Case of Cincinnati, state secretary-treasurer, told 150 delegates yesterday that "crazy CIO agitation" had defeated much worthy state legislation during the past year. Case and President David Robertson of Cleveland contended that "CIO is on its way out."

GIVES UP HOPE



Mrs. Stella Crater (above) wife of the famed Joseph Force Crater, who disappeared mysteriously seven years ago, expressed the opinion for the first time that the New York supreme court justice "must be dead," in an interview at her Belgrade Lakes, Me., home, as New York police offered to reopen investigation of the case. Mrs. Crater's attorney said he would seek $20,000 insurance carried by the justice. (Associated Press Photo).

DRAFTING OF NEW COURT BILL BEGUN

Vice President Garner rapped for order.

Then, without another word of debate, the roll was called.

The 70 "ayes" included 53 Democrats, Shipstead, a Farmer-Laborite, and the 16 Republicans. The noes were registered by 18 Democrats; Lundeen, the other Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, and La Follette, Progressive of Wisconsin.

Proceedings Brief

The entire proceedings, which virtually killed the Roosevelt bill, took less than a half hour.

The new measure will be handled as an amendment to a house bill pending before the judiciary committee. When passed by the senate, it will go immediately to a conference committee and there will be no opportunity for the house to broaden the measure or to delay it.

The house judiciary committee, it was disclosed today, has authorized a congressional survey of lower federal courts to determine whether new laws are needed to increase their efficiency and speed up litigation.

Chairman Sumners, Democrat of Texas, said the survey would be made after adjournment by a house sub-committee and possibly by a similar senate group working together.

He said it would deal with three subjects:

1. Need, if any, for additional judges.

2. Need for rearrangement of judicial districts and places for holding court.

3. Feasibility of making the circuit courts of appeals the final tribunal for private lawsuits not involving issues of public interest.

Senators Comment on Court Bill Defeat

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 23—Here's what senators said after President Roosevelt's court bill was shelved:

Logan, Democrat of Kentucky: "The supreme court is out of the way."

Johnson, Republican of California: "Glory be to God!"

Wheeler, Democrat of Montana and Burke, Democrat of Nebraska to each other: "You did it. We couldn't have done it without you."

Wheeler: "I've won my cause and lost my leadership.....I would welcome reprisals."

Bailey, Democrat of North Carolina: "The war is over. The thing to do now is talk about reconciliation."

Barkley, Democrat of Kentucky: "The re-reference of the bill to committee I hope will result in accomplishment of .... substantial legislation at this session with reference to judicial reform."

McCarran, Democrat of Nevada: "The President is big enough and strong enough to admit his error, and the country is now safe."

Walsh, Democrat of Massachusetts: "The result is victory for the people themselves."

ATLANTIC FLIGHT MYSTERY DEEPENS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 23—The mystery of the phantom Atlantic airplane deepened today.

Speculation among fliers as to the identity of a plane, reported Wednesday night to be winging eastward across the sea 500 miles east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, led nowhere, and the radio-marine corporation had no further word from ships at sea.

The American freighter Scanmail originally relayed a report the plane had been sighted by the British freighter Rance. Later the ship reported it was the British freighter Corynton.

HAS RARE DISEASE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 23—Four-year-old Robert Lally Jr., of Batavia, O., was "apparently recovering" today from what Dr. Sidney Scorse of Amelia, O., believed the first case of Rocky Mountain spotted fever in the middle west.

MADRID SHELLED BY INSURGENT FORCES

Fifteen Killed, Scores Hurt in Two Bombardments in 24 Hours.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, July 23—Twice shelled within 24 hours and with at least 15 killed and a score injured by the insurgents' big guns, Madrid was abruptly thrown back today to the grimness of a bitter siege.

After two weeks of comparative calm while a tornado of offensive and counter-offensive raged over the hills and plains some 15 miles to the west, Madrid was jolted into sharp realization that a besieging army was still at her gates.

After a long artillery duel last night, confined to the outskirts of the capital, shells started dropping in Alcala street and Cibles square. One projectile killed eight persons.

The second bombardment came this morning when several hundred shells ploughed into the central parts of the capital along Gran Via, Madrid's "Broadway," and in the Chambert section near the United States embassy.

The government guns pumped a thundering reply.

Artillery and aerial bombardments yesterday at Madrid and two small towns in central Spain took more than 60 lives and brought injuries to more than 150 persons. With today's shelling of the capital seven more deaths were reported.

Insurgents in the Brunete sector, tip of government Gen. Jose Miaja's salient west of Madrid, still were trying to push back the government forces, but on the western flank Miaja's militiamen were reported to have cut further into insurgent territory.

Insurgents captured in the Brunete sector were reported to have told government officers that several insurgent battalions had arrived recently from the north under the command of an "Italian general" whose name they refused to divulge.

The insurgent navy, in both the Mediterranean on the east and the Bay of Biscay on the north, attempted to cut off government supplies.

NORTH CHINA PEACE REPORTS CONFLICT

tinuing their withdrawal from the positions that have held west of Peiping since July 7. On that day they clashed with night maneuvering Japanese and have been fighting them intermittently until two days ago.

The withdrawal was understood to have been ordered in compliance with an agreement between local military authorities to end the tense situation by a mutual evacuation of the contested area.

A Japanese army spokesman at Tientsin declared, however, "that the agreement did not "provide for the Japanese to withdraw, but instead solely for the Chinese to withdraw."

Officials of the central Chinese government at Nanking, denied Japanese reports that they had accepted the settlement of the North China crisis made by military authorities at Peiping.

Japanese army officers announced the withdrawal of the Chinese 37th Division southward from the Peiping area had been completed.

This constituted Chinese compliance with the Japanese demand most vital to immediate restoration of peace in North China.

AIRLINER TO BRING CHUTE JUMPER HERE

Dave Binns of Columbus will be at the Marion airport Sunday to make two delayed parachute jumps in connection with the visit of a 12-passenger Stinson Tri-Motor airliner here. Binns will go aloft at 1 and 4 p. m., and bail out at 3,000 feet, falling 2,000 feet before releasing his parachute. Binns has been jumping regularly at Port Columbus.

The airliner is owned by Major Leslie G. Mulzer, veteran army air corps reserve and commercial flyer. The plane is being brought here to make passenger flights over the city. Flying operations will begin at 10 a. m., and continue through the day.

WINDSOR PRAISED IN PASTOR'S TALK

Minister Who Married Duke and Wallis Gives Lecture.

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, July 23—Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, the "poor men's parson" who wed the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, believes Edward is the man to "steer the nations toward the star of peace."

With this glowing tribute to the former king of England, Rev. Mr. Jardine ended a lecture in which he had promised to "rip the lid off" the abdication of Edward for the love of Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

The minister who defied the Church of England to tie the marriage knot for Edward and Wallis failed, however, to make any revelations of startling import.

He said what really forced Edward to abdicate was an alliance between the archbishop of Canterbury—whom he called an "ecclesiastical cad"—and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, whom he described as "grandmotherly."

ALASKAN MOUNTAIN SCALED FIRST TIME

U. S. Men Reach Top of Highest Unclimbed Peak in North America.

By The Associated Press

VALDEZ, Alaska, July 23—A tiny flag of the National Geographic society fluttered today on the 17,500-foot peak of snow-capped Mount Lucania in southeastern Alaska to mark man's conquest of what until July 9 was the highest unclimbed peak in North America.

The conquerors, Bradford Washburn Jr. of Cambridge, Mass., and Robert H. Bates of Philadelphia, arrived here yesterday to tell of three weeks spent in inching their way upward through unremitting snow and below-zero temperatures.

They brought back a complete photographic record of the climb for the Harvard Institute of Geographic Exploration, which sponsored the expedition.

STUDY METHOD OF SELECTING SENATOR

Action Due Today on Plan To Fill Robinson Post.

By The Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 23—Weekold controversy on the method of selecting a Democratic nominee to succeed Senator Joseph T. Robinson came up for a decision today before the party's state committee.

A bitter floor fight impended as the climax to a battle of words on the question of whether a candidate should be nominated by the committee or a primary be called.

THIRD SCOTTSBORO TRIAL NEAR END

By The Associated Press

DECATUR, Ala., July 23—Samuel S. Leibowitz, stocky chief of defense counsel in the "Scottsboro" case, prepared today to address a jury for the third time in less than ten days to ask acquittal of Charlie Weems.

Weems, one of nine Negroes accused of a mass assault upon Mrs. Victoria Price in an Alabama freight train six years ago, is he third defendant to face the court in the present series of trials. Previous juries have returned one death sentence and another of 99 years imprisonment.

INDICTMENT MADE IN FATAL FIRE CASE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., July 23—The Hamilton county grand jury returned two indictments today charging manslaughter and arson against Thomas King, 25, held in connection with fires which have cost six lives here during recent months.

The manslaughter count involves the death in a rooming house blaze, June 24, of C. E. Williams, 50. King is accused of setting the fire.

BOYS' HARDBALL TEAMS TO START PLAY MONDAY

Schedule of Games Arranged For Nines Representing Three City Playgrounds.

Hardball competition among teams of the three city playgrounds under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. will get under way Monday, Clarence Lenz, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announced today. Teams composed of boys from 12 to 16 years old inclusive have been organized at each of the parks. Two rounds will be played before the playgrounds close in September, the winners of each round meeting for the city championship, Mr. Lenz said.

The first tilt will come Monday at 1:30 p. m. between the Shovel team and the McKinley boys at the Uncapher avenue diamond. The remainder of the schedule follows: Lincoln at McKinley on Wednesday, July 28; Shovel at Lincoln on Monday, Aug. 2; Shovel at McKinley on Wednesday, Aug. 4; McKinley at Lincoln on Monday, Aug. 9, and Lincoln at Shovel on Wednesday, Aug. 11.

Starting Time 1:30

All games will start promptly at 1:30 p. m. and in event of rain the game will be postponed until the following morning. Members of the American Legion junior baseball team are ineligible to play, Mr. Lenz said.

Yesterday saw several softball and hardball games at the playgrounds. In the Huck Finn senior softball league, Lincoln and McKinley split a double header at the north end park. Lincoln, with Young and Cochrel as their battery, took the first tilt, 12 to 5. Spain and Willis were the battery for McKinley. In the second game, McKinley came out on top with a 6-2 win with the same battery. Lincoln used Gallaway on the mound and Reams behind the plate.

In the Huck Finn junior softball league, McKinley on its home diamond took both ends of a doubleheader from the Lincoln team.

Mt. Gilead Team Here

Two independent games were played by Shovel teams. A park team from Mt. Gilead invaded the Uncapher avenue lot and walked off with a 12-6 hardball decision. In the evening the younger boys' softball team at the Shovel visited the Children's home and met a crushing 12-1 defeat.

The Shovel hardball team will visit Mt. Gilead for a return game next Thursday afternoon.

FIREMEN SAY FUNDS ON HAND FOR RAISES

in the salary of each fireman and policeman.

The receipts of the city from tax distributions from the county auditor to date total $84,543.39 and include the following, Mr. Geran said: $38,163.81 from general property taxes, $23,637.22 from the general sales tax and $22,732.36 from the police and fire levy.

He pointed out that the distribution of general property tax to the city would have been $44,142.58 but for the deduction of $5,978.57 by the county auditor to pay the city's share of election expenses, workmen's compensation and examiners' fees. He said the deductions will not be made in the second half-year property tax distribution.

The city's receipts from its various offices and agencies, excluding the hospital and garbage department, totaled $13,063.52 to July 1, Mr. Geran said.

Adding the $13,063.52 and the $84,543.39, Mr. Geran reached $97,606.91 as the total receipts.

Expenditures to July 1, including the payment of the first half of July pay roll, were $75,600.15, he said. In addition, he said Mr. Landes told him about $1,000 is outstanding against the city in bills.

There is also a note for $9,154.97, borrowed by the city to pay firemen's and policemen's salaries from last September to Jan. 1, he said. This must be met from the special levy fund before Aug. 9.

Sees Funds Available

"Taking the same set of expenditures for the last five and a half months of this year, plus the amount required to restore the 15 per cent reduction in pay for the last five months, the total expenditures from now on to Dec. 31 should be $91,407.12," Mr. Geran said. The balance on hand plus the additional revenue coming in for the last half of this year from the city offices and taxes should enable the city to meet the restoration of pay, he said.

He said there is no reason why the expenditures for the last half of this year should be greater than for the first half and thus offset the present balance.

The movement for the restoration of pay to the firemen was made public early last month when petitions, signed by various organizations in the city, were presented to council.

The petitions were read and referred to the council finance committee which last week met with the firemen's committee to present Mayor Smith's and the finance committee's view of the financial status of the city.

Firemen following the meeting retained Mr. Geran to make a survey of city finances for them. Others on the firemen's committee are T. E. Brownlee, George Kelly, Wesley Isaleb and O. A. Sifritt.

Signing the petition to council were various groups affiliated with the Marion Central Labor Union, the Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles, the Marion Food Distributors association and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

ENGLAND BROADENS DIVORCE GROUNDS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 23 — A 25-year fight to liberalize Britain's divorce laws ended today with parliamentary enactment of a law whereby cruelty, desertion for three years, insanity for five years become grounds for divorce. The measure is effective Jan. 1, 1938.

Adultery hitherto was the only cause for divorce in Britain.

15 ON CITY TRAFFIC COURT LIST TODAY

Motorists Cited for Parking Violations.

Names of 15 motorists were listed on the traffic docket in municipal court this morning. Four entered pleas of guilty and were assessed fines of $1, two were excused, and the remainder were expected to report in court later today or Saturday. Those who have received citations and do not appear will be summoned, municipal court officials said.

Nine of the motorists were cited for alleged overtime parking violations, five for parking in restricted zones, and one for alley parking. Of the two drivers who were excussed, both had been cited for overtime parking. One driver resided outside the city and the other was excused when he explained that the battery of his car had gone dead and he was unable to move it under the parking time limit.

SIX BURNED TO DEATH IN FLAMING AUTO

Trapped After Truck Strikes Parked Car; Another Dies Later.

By The Associated Press

PRIEST BRIDGE, Md., July 23—Six persons were burned to death in a flaming auto here early today after a truck struck their parked passenger car and tried it over. A seventh died later of his injuries.

The truck driver rescued a 7-year-old boy by pulling him through a window of the car. The others, all members of one family, were tangled in the back of the machine and could not free themselves.

The dead were Bernard Lammer, 21, driver of the car; his three sisters, Mildred, 19, Anna May, 12, and Pauline, 29; and his two cousins, Frances Haker, 17, Frances Baldwin, 14, and David Manning, 7. All lived in Laurel, Md.

The driver of the truck was B. M. King of Muddy Point, Va. He said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and struck the rear of Lammer's car, parked beside the road.

Sgt. Elon A. Turner of the county police arrested King on an open charge and held him in bond of $500 for the outcome of an inquest.

TAMMANY BACKS COPELAND FOR MAYOR

Choice Over Whalen Presages One of New York's Bitterest Primaries.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 23—Tammany Hall's endorsement of United States Senator Royal S. Copeland for mayor over dapper Grover A. Whalen, nominee for Democratic organizations in the four boroughs outside Manhattan, today forecast one of the bitterest primary battles in New York City's political history.

A campaign with the new deal as a paramount issue was assured when supporters of ailing chieftain James J. Dooling, backing Copeland, overrode Whalen adherents by a vote of 15 11-12 to 8 5-12 after two hours of acrimonious debate behind locked doors in the historic wigwam.

Whalen, world's fair head and a vigorous new dealer, has the support of Democratic leaders in Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond boroughs who are friendly to Postmaster General James A. Farley. Copeland, supported by former Governor Alfred E. Smith, has opposed many Roosevelt administration measures, including the late court bill.

OHIO STRIKE RIOT HEARING NEAR END

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 23 — The labor relations board expected today to conclude its hearing on the Massillon, O., steel strike riot, and to turn to other events in the recent walkout.

The board, taking testimony on its complaint that the Republic Steel Corp. violated the Wagner act before and during the strike, has limited witnesses so far to descriptions of the riot July 11 and events leading up to it.

The hearing may shift to Cleveland after conclusion of the riot testimony.

Four union men, two of them officials, told the board yesterday they witnessed the riot. Three of them said special police started the shooting, while the fourth said he was not sure who fired the first shots.

WASHINGTON, July 23—Authorization for five Ohio projects were retained in the omnibus rivers and harbors bills today by the senate commerce committee. The projects, already approved by the house, and their estimated costs are: Cleveland harbor, $567,100; Ashtabula habor, $550,000; Put-In-Bay, $50,000; Rocky River harbor, $48,000, and Fairport harbor, $145,000.

SPANISH WAR VETS HEAR OHIO JUDGE

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, July 23—Justice E. S. Matthias of the Ohio state supreme court told a state encampment of the United Spanish War veterans last night that the United States should not participate in the "quarrels and bickerings" of Europe.

"We should attend strictly to our own business," he said, "and not attempt to save democracy in Europe as we tried to do once before. We should rather devote our efforts to the preservation of democracy in our own country."

COURT POST STILL VACANT

FRIDAY, - - - - - JULY 23, 1937

His Great Defeat.

President Roosevelt has met his first defeat in more than four years of the most complete presidential domination in the history of the American nation.

By killing his court bill, congress has brought a startling halt to government dictated by the White House and the Roosevelt prestige which so many serious observers regarded with grave alarm has suffered a severe blow. Congress has shown that the presidential will is not indomitable and that the elected lawmakers of the land still have a voice in government.

Only once before, on the soldiers' bonus, was Mr. Roosevelt's will ignored by congress in any major issue and even then the situation was scarcely comparable to the present case for the most powerful kind of pressure was being exerted on the legislators for favorable action and the President was on the negative side. Here, however, the bill to remake the supreme court was the President's own measure. It was a move to add inestimably to his own power for transforming the personal program into law.

Mr. Roosevelt put his prestige at issue when he demanded repeatedly that the measure be passed and it was an act of clearcut revolt when congress refused to acquiesce. The President, beyond any possibility of quibbling or explaining it away, has been defeated by a senate so predominantly composed of his own party that many thought defeat for his program was impossible.

Temporary repudiation of the Roosevelt leadership is so complete that the fate of some of his other legislation is in doubt today. Having thrown off White House domination so decisively in the most controversial issue to arise during this administration, many congressmen and senators want to quit and go home, leaving other legislation for the next session.

Defeat of the court bill is one of the most significant acts in the history of congress. It should go a long way toward quieting the fears of those who talked in alarmed tones of dictatorship, for a dictator cannot exist where a free people can rise up and repudiate his acts and his policies. It announces to America and the world that the supreme court, defender of the Constitution and of American institutions, stands unshaken after the most daring assault ever made upon it. It shows that the executive and the legislative arms of the government are still separate entities.

President Roosevelt has lost more than his fight for control over the supreme court by this defeat. He has lost a part of that prestige which means leadership. Soldiers who have seen their leader beaten to earth know thereafter that he is vulnerable. Conversely, the victory of the opposition will increase its prestige and power immeasurably.

American history for the next three and one half years will be very different because of the defeat of the court bill.

We Don't Want War.

Entirely aside from the moral horror at thought of a great war in Asia, the United States wants peace between oriental countries now growling at each other's throats because war would cost this country many millions of dollars in exports.

Under mandatory provisions of the neutrality act shipments to China would be cut off in event of a war because China has no ships with which to transport its goods and little ready cash with which to pay for them. Japan, with both ships and money, would be able to purchase its supplies here.

Tremendous pressure would then be brought to bear on the administration to bring the discretionary provisions of the act into operation and cut off shipments to Japan as an act of complete neutrality. Thus the government would be faced on the one hand by a demand that sale of commodities cease as an act of strict neutrality and on the other hand by an equally insistent demand that commerce remain open for the protection of American industry, especially steel and cotton which Japan would need in event of war.

Both nations, as well as others which might be drawn into a full sized war are good customers of the United States and actual hostilities would be a disastrous blow to American industry and commerce.

There is a good reason, therefore why Washington is doing much more than appears on the surface in its efforts to keep the peace across the Pacific.

The Supreme Court Is Safe

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1937, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, July 23 — The supreme court of the United States is safe from political sabotage. The tribunal which the whole civilized world has learned to revere stands unharmed after five months of the most violent attack that ever was visited upon it in the 150 years of its existence.

It is a victory for public opinion. It is a victory also for the statesmanship of independent Democrats who led the fight, risking political reprisals from the Roosevelt administration, and for the Republican group which had the good sense not to permit the issue to become political or partisan.

But the historian will have to add also that it was the most damaging defeat that President Roosevelt has suffered in his public career. It was, moreover, an entirely unnecessary and uncalled for blow to his prestige because it was inflicted only by himself.

As the record is closed on a most dramatic chapter in the President's experiences with congress, the question will be asked again and again why Mr. Roosevelt took the risk he did and where his political judgment, hitherto extolled, happened to be when he failed to take advantage of opportunity after opportunity to avoid a crushing defeat.

Most everybody, here-about recognized on Feb. 5, when the President took his own party leadership and the whole nation by surprise with his message bitterly attacking the supreme court and proposing that it be packed with six additional justices that a mistake had been made. I looked up the dispatch which I wrote for Feb. 8 and find this comment:

"Had President Roosevelt laid in advance before leaders of both houses of congress his proposal to increase the size of the supreme court, most of them would have advised against it. Now, torn between political loyalty and convictions, those leaders find it embarrassing to oppose the measure. It is an example of a lack of that cooperation with the members of one's party in the legislative branch of the government which might have avoided perhaps the most colossal blunder of the Roosevelt regime. Indeed, unless the proposal is withdrawn, it may exert the movement that will break up the Democratic party and produce embarrassment for the rest of the President's second term."

The foregoing was a reflection of the feeling and sentiment on Capitol Hill within 48 hours after the court plan was launched. Mr. Roosevelt may have been doubtful about congressional sentiment that day, but in the weeks that followed he could never have been in doubt. It turns out that even his intimate friends and supporters like Governor Lehman told him long ago he was on the wrong track. Vice President Garner told him. Senator Robinson unquestionably reported accurately the sentiment among members of the Democratic party. Certainly close friends like Senators O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Wheeler of Montana didn't mince words and it is reported that Chairman Sumners of the house judiciary committee and Speaker Bankhead, too, spoke out frankly to the President.

But Mr. Roosevelt wouldn't budge. Why? Is it possible that he set up his own judgment as better than the opinion of all the veterans in congress, believing that the "yes men" in his cabinet and the ambitious lesser lights in official circles knew more about it than the others? Or did Mr. Roosevelt, fresh from the applause of South American capitals and with the cheers of huge demonstrations on the streets of the big cities during the last campaign still ringing in his ears, imagine that he was a better judge of public opinion than anybody else in the country?

There were dozens of opportunities for real compromise, for graceful retreat, even for the attainment of the larger objectives. But Mr. Roosevelt stubbornly refused them all. Thus at any time within the last five months both houses of congress would have voted by a two-thirds vote a constitutional amendment compelling retirement of supreme court justices at 75 years of age. It might possibly have even approved of a 6 to 3 vote being required for holding unconstitutional an act of congress or of the state legislatures though this proposal would have been much more controversial.

In other words, the big objective of dealing with the alleged tenacity of justices of advanced age would have been reached by proposals to amend the Constitution. But the President was deaf to all such pleas. The blunder is not of the ordinary kind. It is not easily repaired. The Presidents' prestige has not only been impaired but grave doubts have arisen as to the true purpose of Mr. Roosevelt with respect to other legislation which plainly seeks to centralize more power in Washington and a great deal more in the hands of the chief executive.

The proposed reorganization of federal executive departments, which in the main is a splendid thing, will now be subjected to more scrutiny than before and it is doubtful whether the scheme to ruin the quasi-judicial commissions will ever get through or the plan to eliminate the severe audit of expenses which the comptroller general has heretofore exercised on behalf of congress.

The pendulum will continue to swing away from the President unless he recognizes that the country is not as radical or as sympathetic to reckless legislative proposals from the "brain trust" as he has been. Congress is anxious to adjourn. The wages and hours bill is probably dead for the session and so also are various other scheme and plans some of which had some worthwhile points in them but which must now be lost in the legislative jam because a President of the United States thought one-man government was as applicable in America as it seems to be abroad.

The greatest result of the fight is the effect on congress itself. The rubber stamp has been taken from the backs of a large majority of the members. There is, indeed a new majority in the senate and perhaps also in the house. For the country rose to the occasion and told congress that to tamper with the supreme court was to break down constitutional government and on that issue there could be no compromise. The citizens who gave of their time and energy to the battle will for the most part go unheralded and unsung, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that they helped on the 150th anniversary of the Constitution to save that instrument from the worst example of attempted usurpation of power that has been recorded in the whole history of the American republic.

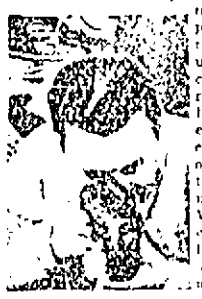
Popular New Hobby

BY MAURICE MERRYFIELD
International News Writer

NEW YORK. Starting as a fad restricted to a comparative few because of the expense involved, the hobby of taking miniature movies has now been taken up by a legion of fans in United States.

Few recreations have enjoyed such amazing popularity in such a brief time. It has been within the past two years that this diversion has become a truly national pastime, resulting in development of an industry which is well on its way to be among one of major size.

Because of the rapidity with which this new business expanded, it still represents a potentially untapped field for exploitation. Only recently there was launched the first efficient commercial effort to capitalize on the growing interest in miniature movies. To Eugene W. Castle goes credit for being the first to take advantage of a fruitful situation.



Movie Camera Amateur in Action.

Castle, for some time a producer of movie shorts for advertising purposes, blazed the trail when he put on the market a sequence of the Hindenburg disaster in both 8-mm. and 16-mm. sizes. Next came a release on the coronation of King George VI of Great Britain, and third, a pictorial review of the Duke of Windsor.

These were the first offerings of their kind available to the army of miniature movie fans. Heretofore, the only films on the market were travelogs, antique comedies and amateurish scenarios of but slight appeal. In addition to these, there were available most of the animated cartoons.

Hollywood has been fully aware of the possibilities in this direction, but have hesitated about promoting the miniature movie industry because of fear that it might turn out to be a serious competitive threat to its celluloid domain.

Hobby Rather Expensive

The extent to which miniature movies have captured the public fancy is evident when it is considered that some 2,000,000 persons in United States have projectors for screening home pictures. Projectors range in cost from $25 to $100. Although there are more expensive types, of course, a fairly satisfactory model can be obtained for about $20.

More expense is entailed if an individual goes in for taking his own movies. Initial cost for a camera must be figured at at least $75, while additional equipment such as telephoto lens, lens for taking colored films and floodlights for indoor shots add considerably to the budget.

Film has been reduced in price considerably in the past three years but still mounts up if much footage is taken. Ordinary film can be purchased for $4 or $5 per hundred feet, but color film costs about $9 per hundred.

Before long this cost will undoubtedly be reduced, since the hobby of taking and showing miniature movies is apparently here to stay and is already on its way toward becoming "big business."

It's Hot Everywhere.

Even taking complaints about Washington weather with a grain of salt, as most of them do, constituents of sweltering congressmen are willing to agree that the capital's too hot for summer comfort.

That raises the question of what place would be better, but in view of the money which has been sunk in all those huge marble edifices in the capital, it doesn't seem worth while to mention any other dream spots.

Besides, it's hot everywhere at some time or other. Possibly it's warmer in Washington during July and August than it is in Independence, Kan., or Berkeley, Calif., but residents in those places complain of the heat, too.

Here's the difference. They've no place else to go. They're not like congressmen, who can pack a bag and be rolling a half hour after the powers that be decide to call it a day and adjourn.

They don't even have air conditioning yet, one of the things the Washington martyrs are most anxious to avoid. They must grin and bear it, which leads to the conclusion that the hottest place in the world is the place you want to be away from—and that might pass for a fair definition of the hot place which ministers talk about too.

Lewis and Pie

JOHN LEWIS is a bold man. He defied William Green and set off to paddle his own CIO canoe. He defied General Motors and Chrysler, and U. S. Steel and all the Little Steels. But now he defies a still more deeply intrenched foe. It is the pie counter.

His newest venture is a plan to compete with the American Federation of Labor in organizing state, county and municipal workers.

Single handed, and voluntarily relinquishing the weapons of strike and picket line he goes forth to battle the pie counter. That is the counter where the jobs are laid out at the turn of every administration. That is where every new mayor and governor and board of county commissioners ladles out the juicy slices to faithful political followers.

Unionization of such employes would put a nasty kink into the arms of the boys who wield the pie knives. They won't like L. Lewis now summons a foeman worthy of his steel, more stubborn than Sloan, more touchy than Taylor, more glowering than Girdler. Or maybe Lewis wants just a little slice of the pie himself.

Today in Ohio History

The memoirs of Gen. U. S. Grant are of great interest to historians as they are one of the most reliable sources of information regarding the Civil war. Yet they probably never would have been written had they not been almost a matter of necessity.

Grant stated that he had never intended to write anything for publication, but the failure of a business in which he was a partner left him almost penniless and so he turned to the story of his life as a means of earning something. Much of it was written while Grant was very ill and he had barely completed the work when he died, July 23, 1885.

Hindenburg Sister Ship About Ready

By E. C. HOY
International News Service Correspondent

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 22 — Undaunted by the tragic fate of the airship "Hindenburg" in which so many of their friends and colleagues were killed, a crew of 150 highly skilled mechanics under direction of Knute Eckener, son of the famous dirigible veteran, is putting the finishing touches to "LZ-130" which is to take the Hindenburg's place in trans-Atlantic air traffic this fall.

The Lakehurst disaster has tremendously increased public interest in anything connected with dirigibles and thousands of Germans and tourists from all parts of the world are flocking in to Friedrichshafen to see the new airship in the making.

In order to prevent these visitors from interfering with the assembly work a special grandstand has been erected within the hangar from where the spectators have an impressive view of the complete light metal structure which is already more than half covered with fabric. Mechanics hanging on steel ropes within the giant network of aluminum girders give visitors the impression of human flies caught in a huge spider net.

822 Feet Long

The LZ-130, like the Hindenburg, is 827 feet long and has a maximum diameter of 137 feet. Nothing has been altered in the construction of the light metal skeleton because the Hindenburg flight record, as well as investigation by American authorities into the causes of the Lakehurst fire has not caused the slightest doubt as to its ability to withstand even the greatest stresses possible in thunderstorms over the ocean.

The aluminum alloys used for construction of both girder rings and bars linking three rings to each other are, as Knute Eckener stated, "light like a feather and tough as the famous Damascene sword steel." A 10-feet alloy bar can easily be lifted with one hand.

Pending definite American agreement to supply Germany with helium gas for commercial purposes, the original plan for the gas containers inside the giant ship has been changed because a larger quantity of helium is necessary to give the same lifting capacity as hydrogen.

Definite Decision Delayed

Definite decisions about arrangements of the helium bags will, however, be made only after Dr. Eckener and Dr. Duerr, chief constructor and designer of the Airship Building Corporation, return here from America.

Like the Hindenburg, the new ship will have four crude motors of 1050 HP each which will give the ship a maximum speed of 85 miles per hour. The fuel supplies consisting of 132,000 pounds of crude oil are carried in huge tanks at the bottom of the hull and are forced to the motors by pipe lines which can be opened or closed from the control stand afore.

All the control and crew's as well as passengers' quarters are distributed in two decks. Below the ship's nose in front is the control stand, the nerve center of the complicated mechanism necessary for operation. Behind the control stand is a special navigation room. From both rooms a small ladder leads up to the wireless room which is equipped with sending and receiving sets and also contains the latest blind flying apparatus.

Special Passengers' Quarters

The passengers' quarters amid ship are designed to give the greatest possible comfort to air travelers. The upper main deck has a big dining room on one side and a reading room on the other. Twenty-five cabins with fifty berths are equipped with running hot and cold water. From long promenade

The seasoned villain—still pursued her episode to enliven Broadway concerned the handsome prize fight-tenor Jack Doyle's chase for the highly publicized Libby Holman. It was touched off by wireless by Doyle on an incoming steamer in which both were arriving. At the pier Miss Holman gave out a firecracker statement intimating Doyle was less than a pain in the neck. The cynical lifted eyebrows to murmur: "Nice hunk of publicity for both." And so back and forth zing some scorchers which give a relief from Tommy Manville's love affairs for a time.

There is more dining out in the chintzy Marie Antoinette and Petit Trianon tea rooms than most people imagine. Thousands once satisfied with nothing less than Pierre's or The Colony seem content in the candle-lit glow of the side streets. There is a meadow-brook, water cress neatness and flavor of mignonette about these places that offer serenity and charm. Joseph Hergesheimer speaks of "the honey dew motif." Over most of them preside motherly women who seem actually anxious to have you enjoy the food.

I am told many home cooking places are "made" by specializing in soups. New York is reputedly the most avid soup-eating city in the world. Many restaurateurs say a tasty soup will put any new food dispensing venture in the chips. There must be a subtle propaganda in the big town for soup. Before coming here any soup indulgence was confined to Monday wash day bean soup. Something to be suffered, but with passing years I find I do not enjoy a dinner that does not get off with a potage.

The fruit cocktail is another dinner lead-off that has become almost indispensable. And is the most profitable delicacy on the menu. In the cheaper places tariff ranges from 20 to 30 cents, but in the tonier spots, reaching the grandeur of Grape Fruit Supreme, is often listed as high as 80 cents. And in one elegant eatery is boldly marked $1.25. Most of them can be prepared for a few pennies—not more than a dime outside.

The oyster cocktail is attributed to a California miner and circumstances in 1886. The miner in from the desert found his favorite restaurant had nothing left for the day but oysters, a bottle of catsup and horse-radish. He mixed them up, adding salt and pepper and found it the most edictable dish ever encountered. Next day he opened a cocktail bar and made a fortune.

Memories: Odor of the first pair of new corduroy pants...Fooling the city slickers by carrying the buggy whip in your hand when you came in to see the circus parade.... The poor white trash from across the tracks who peddled greens in the Spring....The old colored uncle with his whitewash bucket who came to "sweeten up" the cellar.

Newcomers in Court Debate

"Young Fellows" in Congress Get Chance To Perform.

BY PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, July 23—Debate on the supreme court plan offered a grand opportunity for young fellows in congress to display their leadership.

Senator Minton of Indiana, of the class of 1934, florited in the debate and displayed keen skill at that most difficult senatorial feat, the give and take on the floor. It is no kindergarten thing to stand on the floor and fence with a half dozen senators, all armed with information and caustic retorts.

Minton could do it, although seasoned by but two years in the senate. At times he did it almost too well and flavored his debate with an occasional sub-caliber jibe.

Senator Schwellenbach of Washington occupied a quiet sector during initial stages of debate but got in on some of the heckling. He had received his filibuster training earlier. It was he who organized the "Young Turks" who aided Huey Long's filibuster.

Guffey Besieged

Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania, while no youngster in age or politics, is another of the class of 1934 who, like Minton and Schwellenbach, donned his armor to war for the court bill. Guffey waxed scholarly and cited cases and precedents, although few before and fewer since suspected him of such deep research into the doings of the court in 150 years past.

But Guffey recognized his limitations in the give and take of debate and prefaced his speech with a warning that he would allow no interruptions while he read a prepared piece. He didn't tell Wheeler of Montana and his colleagues were laying for him when he finished and soon had the Pennsylvanian on the ropes. Ultimately he sat down in the face of a barrage of questions, declining to answer them.

Senator Burke of Nebraska, also of the class of 1934, was the principal "youngster" trying out his mettle on the side of the opposition, ranking almost with the senatorial veteran, Wheeler of Montana, in the volume of his attacks. But Burke is a kindly soul and parries where he might thrust.

Maverick Warning

The shining light among the fighting youngsters in the house is that voluble Texan, Maury Maverick. He grabbed the floor early in the game by tearing off a copy of the court bill as it came from the White House, signing his own name to it and flinging it into the hopper.

Since then he has written and spoken for the bill and organized a following. He persistently denounces any assertion that the people are against the measure. Members of congress who oppose the bill, he says, won't come back.

Incidentally that is a risky way youngster takes in "getting his neck out" on a basic issue such as the court bill. History records that a number of youngsters who went in over their heads for the League of Nations subsequently lost their pants.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, July 23, 1927.

Fight Promoter Tex Rickard officially informed Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, that his next opponent would be Jack Dempsey.

It was announced that as a result of the annual campaign against weeds carried on under the direction of Sanitary Commissioner Charles M. Tobin, virtually all vacant lots in the city had been mowed.

Mrs. J. F. Neidhart and son John of South State street returned from a week's outing at Lake side.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bell of East Columbia street returned from a visit with friends at Youngstown.

Miss Mabel Augenstein and John Matthews were united in marriage by Rev. Herbert F. Weckerly, pastor of the First Reformed church, at his home on South Prospect street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, July 23, 1917.

Premier-War Minister Kerensky was made virtual dictator of all Russia by the Russian council of workmen's and soldier's delegates. This step was regarded as necessary because of chaotic conditions in Petrograd and some parts of the battle front. Simultaneously with the announcement, the Russian army on the Vilna front struck a powerful blow, capturing German prisoners and trenches. German airships attacked East England, killing 11 persons and wounding 26. It seemed evident that the Germans had intended to bombard London but had been frustrated by the city's new air defenses.

Clarence W. Smith was appointed Marion county chairman of the "Four Minute Men," a nationwide organization formed to arrange for four-minute speeches in picture houses upon war subjects sent from Washington.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Neville of three miles west of Marion.

The Marion Chamber of Commerce joined the national organization in helping get the people to heed the six "big requests" of Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, in order to conserve the nation's food supply. They were to eat one wheatless meal a day, to eat beef, mutton or pork not more than once a day, to economize in the use of butter, to cut the daily allowance of sugar in tea or coffee and in other ways; to eat more vegetables, fruit and fish and to urge in the homes or restaurants the necessity of economy.

A process for preservation of milk using oxygen has been invented in the Netherlands.

$30 STOLEN FROM HOUSE BY THIEF

Thirty dollars was taken from the residence of Mrs. Rass Young of 653 Leader street, by a stealthy who entered her home sometime yesterday afternoon, according to a report to police. The theft occurred while Mrs. Young was working in the garden and other members of the family were away from home. Nothing else was reported missing.

THREE INITIATED BY V. F. W. POST

Three candidates were obligated at a meeting of Marion Post No. 3313 Veterans of Foreign Wars last night at the hall on South Main street. Twenty five members discussed a family picnic and a street dance in the near future. Four applications for membership were voted on. A social hour followed the business session.

SCHAFFNER'S
COR. MAIN AND CHURCH STS. MARION, OHIO

Contest Closes Saturday, July 24th

Social Affairs

MISS MARY E. TITSWORTH, who will become the bride of Clifford L. Rowley of Toledo Saturday afternoon in Epworth M. E. church, was complimented with a dinner last evening at the Center tearoom on South Main street. The affair was arranged by her associate women employes in the Marion Steam Shovel company's offices where she is receptionist.

Covers were placed for about 40 at tables decorated with variegated summer flowers. At the bride-elect's table there was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Titsworth was presented a gift, and the after dinner hours were spent socially.

An ice cream social Aug. 12 on the church lawn was arranged for at a meeting of the Lutheran guild of St. Paul's English Lutheran church yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Hnal Miller of Bennett street. Miss Geneva Bell was a guest.

Officers were elected at a meeting of Group 3 of the Missionary society of the Central Christian church yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Ollie Schneider of Forest street. Those elected are Mrs. J. B. Swain, leader; Mrs. Edna Harrod, assistant leader; Mrs. Ella Boyer, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Haflich, secretary. Mrs. Harry L. Bell read the first chapter of the study book, "Rural America." Lunch was served in a social hour.

Mrs. Fred Linville won honors for high score in bridge at a meeting of the Semper Fidelis club Wednesday evening with Mrs. Harold Gerlach of Windsor street. Mrs. Russell Klingel won a galloping award. Lunch was served by the hostess. The club will meet Aug. 15 with Mrs. Klingel of the Delaware road.

Mrs. Ray Williams of East Church street was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Past Worthy High Priestess' association. Following an afternoon of sewing a picnic supper was served at 6 o'clock. A cake lighted by candles observed the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Georgia Ebert.

Mrs. J. A. Hoffman, Mrs. Alice Smith and Miss Fay Mackey were appointed a nominating committee when 23 members of the Loyal Workers class of the First United Brethren church met last evening with Mrs. C. D. Bonecutter of 380 Pearl street. Mrs. B. A. Hollenbaugh was in charge of devotions. Mrs. Carl V. Roop played a piano selection and Mrs. Martha Rider and Miss Clara Hildreth gave readings. The meeting opened with instrumental music played by Miss Katie Croiner. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bonecutter, Mrs. B. F. Stauffer, Mrs. William Shirer, Mrs. Elizabeth Pugh and Mrs. Lester Forsaker. Mrs. J. C. McCullough, Miss Hazel Hazlett and Miss Mary Louise Weaver were guests. Games were played in the social hour. Officers will be elected at a meeting Aug. 19 at the community house.

Mrs. Laurella Flea and Mrs. Zoa Luvisi joined other members of the Past Worthy High Priestess' association of the White Shrine of Jerusalem of Columbus as guests of Mrs. Belle Householder of Lancaster, yesterday. The hostess entertained with a luncheon at the Lancaster Country club and later took her guests to her home for bridge. Mrs. Flea was awarded a prize for high score and Mrs. Belle Cook of Columbus received second and the galloping awards. Mrs. Florence Lawrence of Columbus will entertain the association Sept. 23.

Mrs. Frank Fairchild was re-elected leader of Group 2 of the Missionary society of the Central Christian church at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Swisher of 351 Chestnut street. Other officers chosen for the year follow: Mrs. Swisher, assistant leader; Mrs. Joseph M. Mitchell, secretary-reporter; Mrs. John Linn, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Watts, world call secretary; Mrs. Harry L. Bell, program chairman.

Mrs. Bell reviewed the first chapter of the study book, "Rural America," and outlined the work of the society for the next six months. The meeting opened with devotions. Refreshments were served in a social hour. A meeting will be held Aug. 5 with Mrs. Watts of 350 Oakes street.

Mrs. Robert Wells was enrolled in the Thursday Night Bridge club at a meeting last evening with Mrs. Delos Freshwater of North Prospect street. Mrs. Ralph Hoss and Mrs. Merle Giles were guests. Awards for high scores went to Mrs. Harvey Lurt and Mrs. Wells. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. George Peadon of West Columbia street.

Miss Dorothy Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Bailey of the Evans road, whose marriage to Robert L. Pace of the Claridon road, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis L. Pace, will take place on July 31, was given a miscellaneous shower last evening when her mother and sisters, Valeska and Axonell, entertained at the home.

A miniature yacht, "Matrimony," held the shower gifts, and the yachting theme was carried out in the appointments for the refreshments. The bride's colors of pink and white were used in the decorations and refreshments.

A contest was won by Miss Helen Rieger. Guests were Miss Vivian Bowers of Linn, Mrs. C. L. Pace and daughters Evelyn and Virginia, Miss Eileen Bevins, Miss Garnet Higgins, Miss Virginia Thaxton, Miss Rieger and Miss Beatrice O'Hara.

Husbands of the members will be guests at the August meeting it was planned by Circle No. 2 of the Ladies Aid society of the First United Brethren church Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. C. Kyle on Cheney avenue. Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. William Kohler, Mrs. M. J. McCullough and Mrs. Della Heaton. Mrs. Belle Ballinger, presided.

Friends of C. D. Shadaker, a former resident of Marion, surprised him last evening at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shadaker of Sugar street, in honor of his birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Shadaker stopped here for a short visit enroute from Arcanum, O., to their new home in Albany, N. Y., where Mr. Shadaker has been made industrial field representative by his employers, the Crane Co. The visit here was to join Mr. Shadaker's niece, Edith Arlene Shadaker, in celebrating their joint birthday anniversaries, a custom of several years' standing. Guests last evening included Mr. and Mrs. George Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Middleton and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Z. P. Davis. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Leo Wade and Mrs. Paul Midlam were guests and the former was enrolled as a member at a meeting of the N. L. I. club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alfreda Wolfinger of Blaine avenue. Three tables were filled for progressive euchre, honors going to Mrs. Jean Stackpole, Mrs. Robert Poland and Mrs. Harley Bush. Mrs. Reece Lee received the door award and Mrs. Wade was presented a guest prize. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Herman Wygle of North Prospect street.

Mrs. H. J. Hartsell was elected leader at a meeting of Group No. 1 of Central Christian church yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Avis Clark on Girard avenue. Mrs. Herman Heisler was chosen assistant leader, Mrs. Harry Johnson, secretary, and Mrs. Carl Elliott, magazine chairman. The program included a review of the first and second chapters of the study book, "Rebuilding Rural America." The next meeting will be Aug. 12 at the church.

Mrs. Bert Eckert, Mrs. Finley Marshall and Mrs. T. H. Clark were awarded honors for high scores at a meeting of the Jolly Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Willard Clark on Windsor street. Mrs. Arthur Parratt and Mrs. Emma Humes were guests and the latter was awarded the guest and galloping wards. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. T. H. Clark on Oak Grove avenue.

A group of former members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church were guests at a lawn party given last evening by Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Carriker at the manse on Johnson street. Jack-o'-lanterns lighted the lawn. Reminiscing of experiences since leaving the organization was followed by singing familiar songs, and a period of games and contests. A watermelon feast closed the evening's entertainment.

Tonight at 7 the Young Married People's class of the church will have a picnic supper at Garfield park.

Last Call Today for Entries in Menu Contest

LAST call for entries in the third annual hot weather menu contest sponsored by a group of Marion merchants and The Star!

Deadline is noon, Saturday, but there still is time to mail or bring your entry to the contest editor at The Star.

Fifty dollars in cash awards will be distributed to the women chosen by the judges as having submitted the best recipes in the six classifications, picnic menus, luncheons, Sunday suppers, dinners, party menus and hot weather drinks. The prizes will be distributed for first, second and third entries, with the exception of the hot weather drink for which there are only two prizes.

Just submit a menu including your favorite dish and give the recipe for your "favorite" dish.

The scores of recipes will be judged Monday afternoon and will be announced in a special "hot weather menu" section in The Star on Wednesday.

Annual Summer Dance Held by DeMolay Chapter

SEVENTY-FIVE couples danced to a program played by Bob McMahan's orchestra at the annual summer dance at which members of Marion Chapter No. 268 Order of DeMolay were hosts last night at Rainbow Gardens. The affair was in the form of a sports dance.

Dancing was from 9 until 12 o'clock, and during an intermission Miss Jane Melby entertained with tap dance numbers.

Arrangements were in charge of a committee composed of Sylvester Lucas, chairman, Harold Denzer Jr., and Willard Durfey.

PROSPECT BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. E. R. Smith of Prospect entertained the E. O. U. Bridge club of Prospect at Bloger's Inn on the Prospect pike, last evening. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, and later two tables were filled for bridge. An award for high score was won by Mrs. James Lauer who also received the galloping prize. Mrs. Edsall Johnson was consoled. Miss Mary Ann Porter of Columbus was a guest. Mrs. Harry Waxler will entertain the members in August.

MARION WOMAN AT GRANVILLE REUNION

Mrs. Clarence L. Rutherford of South High street was in Granville yesterday where she attended the annual reunion of descendants of the founder of that city, Theophollo Reese, her maternal great-great-grandfather. She was accompanied by Mrs. Charles Gallant of Delaware, a cousin, also a descendant of the founder. The reunion was held at the home of Rev. Harford, 99, a retired Baptist minister. Covers were laid for 50 at a picnic dinner. Mrs. Rutherford contributed a vocal number during the program hour, and Miss Hannah Jones, 90, of Granville, read a Welsh hymn. Mrs. Minnie Hite Moody of Atlanta, authoress, whose recent book, "Towers With Ivy" is a history of Granville also took part in the program. The city was founded in 1805.

SHOWER PLANNED

WESTFIELD, July 23—There will be a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Morgan Monday night, July 26, in the basement of the M. E. church. Mrs. Morgan formerly was Miss Mirty Brown.

Golf And Bridge Provide Program At Country Club

LADIES' day golf in the morning and a benefit bridge for members and their friends last evening made up the day's activities yesterday at the Marion Country club. In keeping with the summer schedule of "golf on Thursday," the women members met in the morning for play and remained at the club for luncheon. Last evening the party was for the men and women members and their friends, and was attended by about 150. Following a season of cards the evening was spent informally and refreshments were served. Winners of high scores at each table were awarded prizes and other awards were won by Mrs. Millard Hunt and Mrs. A. J. Cayouette. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Mrs. A. W. Kettle, card chairman.

Awards in golf in the morning were presented Mrs. Howard R. Stoll, Mrs. T. L. Fahey, Mrs. John Dugan and Mrs. Millard Hunt.

Hostesses for the party yesterday morning were Mrs. Ed. Pool, chairman, Mrs. Hector S. Young, vice chairman, Mrs. E. H. Morgan, Mrs. Dan LaMarche, Mrs. M. L. McDaniel and Mrs. Sam Sharrock.

The women members will go to Tiffin for golf Tuesday morning.

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

(Copyright 1937, Marie de Nervaud)

SYNOPSIS: Fire destroys Kay Carlton's ranch house and barn. Brother Josh Hastings tries to buy her ranch and court Kay, but she hates him and is determined to rebuild. Ted Gaynor, a friend of the impulsively hired, plotter Johnson, a cowhand Carl's hiring Johnson, a cowhand who suspected Kay. They shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings knocks them unconscious and binds them with Ted's gun. Ted cuts loose with Ted's gun. Ted cuts loose with Ted's gun. Ted goes to a cabin where a girl named Marion nurses him. The aged Sheriff Farley on Ted's trail, hears Ted and Marion talking together in the cabin and rides up in jealous agony. She falls, and Runyon, the fire patrol, finds her and she rushes unconsciously out of Ted's hideout.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

The Tip Off

TOM RUNYON stood up and mounted about, headed down the trail. Then he gathered Kay in his arms and lay her across the saddle.

Mounting behind her, he gathered her into his arms so that her head rested on his shoulder, and spoke and carefully started the horse.

By the time they reached the ranch it was clear that Kay was going to be able to ride Flicka back to the ranch. Untying her, Tom gave him a sharp cut of his quirt and listened while he splashed across the stream and started up the trail of the western slope of the eastern divide. Then, holding Kay tightly to him, he guided his horse into the deep water.

Although the long ride out of the mountains, Kay babbled on in delirium, and Tom Runyon listened.

At each look flashed into his eyes whenever Kay mentioned Ted's name. It was evident that he thought more of Ted than she had supposed, but instead of shaking him from his purpose to win Kay for himself, it made him all the more determined.

As he made his plans for getting rid of his rival Tom gave a vicious chuckle. He had him where he wanted him, all right! But it wouldn't do to take any chances on his making a getaway! He must get to a telephone as soon as possible.

Then Tom struck on a brilliant idea. Why not take Kay directly to the Flying Six? Her aunt was there, and she would be much better cared for, than in her little cabin. He had never met Josh Hastings, but he knew that he had been a friend of Kay's father, so he felt sure he'd be only too glad to look after her.

Suiting the action to the thought, Tom struck out across the mesa to the Flying Six.

Kay's delirious talk had subsided some time before, and she rested a dead weight in his arms as he urged his mount on. Her breathing was even and reassuring. Even though she was undoubtedly suffering from concussion from her fall, the indications were that it was not serious. He knew it might be some time before she completely regained consciousness.

The late moon was rising in the east as they came in sight of the Flying Six ranch house, a dark rambling mass in the silver light. Following up a shrill whistle with a loud "Whoopee," Tom clattered up to the front steps.

Phoning the Sheriff.

A light flickered past the living room windows, and the next minute, Josh Hastings pulled open the front door.

"Kay Crandon's had an accident, and I brought her here," Tom Runyon began, rather importantly. "She—"

He got no farther. A shriek from Aunt Kate's open window was followed by shuffling footsteps down the hall, and Aunt Kate's dishevelled head appeared over Josh Hastings' shoulder.

"Where is she?" She imperiously pushed him aside and made for the steps, where she met Tom Runyon coming up with Kay in his arms.

"What's happened?" she demanded fiercely. "What have you done to her?"

"She had an ugly fall." Tom Runyon carried Kay up on the porch, and laid her down in the hammock. "She'll be all right," he added. "It's just a slight concussion, but I thought she'd be better off here, than she would be over at her place."

"You were dead right," Josh Hastings boomed. "We'll look after her, don't you worry. But where—"

"I'll tell you all that later," Tom broke in, leaving Aunt Kate fussing over Kay, while he beckoned Josh Hastings to one side. "I've got to get in touch with Zeke Farley P.D.Q."

Josh Hastings motioned him toward the door. "You'll find the phone right there on my desk." He followed Tom Runyon inside. "What's up?"

"I've located that Gaynor guy who's wanted for murder." Tom Runyon swelled with importance as he reached for the telephone intent on getting his number, he failed to see the gleam of triumph that quickly flashed in Josh Hastings' eyes.

"Where is he?" he demanded eagerly.

Tom motioned him to wait, as he bent to the telephone.

"This Zeke Farley? I'm Tom Runyon, the fire patrol. I want to tip you off about that Gaynor bird."

An explosive oath over the wire could be heard, even where Josh Hastings was standing.

"Yeah, I know where he is all right," Tom went on. "He's up in a cabin by a clearing on the south side of the central divide. Up there with a girl friend," he added, with a malicious laugh.

Again Josh Hastings could hear the sheriff's exclamation.

"Yeah, I said 'girl friend.'" Tom repeated. "Kay Crandon saw them up there—that's how I know. He's there now. How long he'll be there, I can't tell you."

There was a long pause while Zeke Farley's voice rumbled over the wire.

"Reckon that's your best bet," Tom agreed finally. "I'm telephoning from the Flying Six."

There was another pause.

"O. K. I reckon they'll give me a shake down," Tom cocked an inquiring eye at Josh Hastings, who nodded his assent.

"What did he say?" he demanded eagerly, as Tom hung up the receiver.

"He's notifying Sam Cutter over in the Clear Water basin, and starting off to meet him there." Tom turned to the porch. "How about getting Kay to bed somewhereas and I'll give you the dope?"

Aunt Kate met them at the doorway.

"Put Kay right in that spare bed in my room," she ordered, crisply taking charge of the situation. "I reckon you're right about its being a concussion, young man." She fixed Tom with a severely appraising eye. "Only I don't see why you couldn't have prevented its happening at all!"

"I wasn't there," Tom defended. He stooped down to pick Kay up, but Josh Hastings shoved him unceremoniously aside.

"Here! I'll do that!"

Tom watched Josh Hastings with surprised and smouldering eyes, as he gathered Kay into his arms and carried her through the door.

"You needn't look like that, young man," Aunt Kate observed tartly, as she prepared to follow after them. "These two are as good as engaged and you may as well know it now as later!"

His jaw dropped with chagrin and amazement as he watched Aunt Kate disappear inside the house.

"Throw 'Em Up, Sister!"

Marion Howell stirred restlessly on her bunk that was in the tiny room off the main shack where Ted was sleeping.

She had thrown herself fully dressed on the bunk, as she had done every night since Ted had appeared. Now that he was out of danger, she wouldn't be so constantly on call, she reflected, as she raised herself on one elbow and glanced out the crack in the boarded-up window over her bunk.

The first gray light of dawn was cold and cheerless, and with a shiver, she dropped back and was preparing for more sleep, when a mapping of twigs caught her ear. She told herself it was only an animal prowling through the brush, but an instinct of alarm nevertheless impelled her to get up and creep through Ted's room to the front door.

Noticing with a glow of satisfaction how deeply and quietly he was sleeping, she went to the front door with an amused smile at herself for her nervousness.

As she put her hand on the latch to pull it open, a shove from the outside flung it in, nearly knocking her down as it swung back, revealing a group of men. One of them instantly covered her with his gun.

"Throw 'em up, sister," he commanded, "and the less fuss you make, the better for you!" He made way for the others to pass. "Go on in and hog-tie that bird," he ordered, keeping one eye on Marion to see how she was going to respond to this surprise invasion.

"There's no use throwing my hands up, as I haven't a gun." Marion was amazed at the calmness of her own voice, which belied the sick terror that possessed her. Every instinct was alert to keep her wits about her, as the only possible way to save Ted, and her father as well. "What right have you to break in this way?"

"The right of the law to arrest a murderer," Zeke Farley answered with brutal abruptness.

Sheriff Sam Cutter forces Ted to ride off with his posse, tomorrow.

MT. GILEAD EAGLES LEASE NEW ROOMS

To Remodel Three - Story Building For Lodge, Club and Dining Rooms.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, July 23—Officials of the Eagles lodge this week announced the leasing of a concrete block building on West Center street, formerly occupied by the U. J. Cover Seed Co. and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. warehouse, for their new lodge rooms.

A five-year lease has been signed according to William Flavin, W. R. Corwin and Ray Blayney, trustees of the lodge, with an option to buy at any time in the five years. The lodge officials expect to exercise the option.

The property is owned by Miss Nellie Goorley and U. J. Cover. The three floor building will be completely remodeled and work has already been started. The estimate of the cost of remodeling and decorating is $2,000.

The first floor will be used as a club room, the second for a dining room and kitchen and the third floor for the lodge rooms.

The aerie has occupied rooms over the People's Savings Bank Co. for over 20 years and before that time were located in the third floor of the Miracle building adjoining their new location.

CHAMP WRITER OF LETTERS TO EDITOR

Idaho Man Has Had 78,000 Published in Papers of Several Countries.

By United Press

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida.—Charles Hooper of this city is believed to hold the world's record for "letters to the editor," and also for getting them printed.

To date he has written no less than 78,000 such missives.

These have been sent not only to newspaper editors in the United States, but also to France, Germany, Italy and Spain, all written in the language of each of those countries, as well as thousands of letters in English to the English language papers of China, Japan and the Far East generally.

Hooper's penchant for writing letters to the editor is not merely an offspring of the English tradition which causes many an Englishman, when he sees, hears or thinks something, to write to the London Times, but is prompted by a sincere desire to help a bit in the way of reforming. A modest fortune enables him to adopt this method of trying to get his ideas before the public.

Hooper is a native of New York and was trained for the ministry, but later became convinced that with his typewriter and the "letters to the editor" columns of most of the newspapers of the world open to him, he could reach a larger public and do more good.

"Whenever I see a wrong I want to right it," said Hooper, "and I have found that the columns of newspapers are a mighty factor in such work.

"Most of my letters have been on subjects of religion and morality, trying to correct errors and abuses in both fields. But I have also written extensively on literature, art, education, game preservation and medicine.

"In fact, I was once offered the privilege of joining the Society of Medical Authors. They believed I was a physician, though I have never studied medicine. I also prefer not to turn what writing ability I have to profit as I feel freer and believe that I accomplish more results simply by letters to the editor."

Hooper said that a few of the goals he has campaigned for were the reelection of Woodrow Wilson and against prohibition at a time when such a stand was not popular.

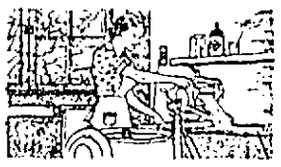
"When it's CLOROX-CLEAN it's disinfected"
WHEN your white cottons and linens are laundered the Clorox way they're snowy-white, immaculate, sparklingly fresh. Even more than that—they're CLOROX-CLEAN, disinfected, an added safeguard to health.


Soiled handkerchiefs, towels, table and bed linens harbor infection-spreading bacteria. It is vitally important to make these and other white and color-fast cottons and linens Clorox-Clean, especially in homes where there are children.
Clorox deodorizes, disinfects and removes numerous stubborn stains—fruit, berry, grass, beverage, blood; many ink, dye, medicine and other stains—even scorch and mildew—from white and color-fast cottons and linens.
Follow the directions on the Clorox label as a guide to easier and safer housekeeping in laundry, kitchen and bathroom. It also lists many important personal uses. Clorox is always uniform in quality... concentrated for economy. There is only one Clorox... order by name.

KENTON WOMAN DIES FOLLOWING JOURNEY

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 23 — Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Chavis, 67, was stricken Wednesday and died late that night a few hours after she had returned to her home here from Boston, Mass. She was born in Washington C. H. and had lived here most of her life. She was a member of the A. M. E. church.

Surviving are a son, Earl Doll of Chicago; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Brown of Kenton, Mrs. Marjorie Martin of Baltimore, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Addie Buckner of Springfield, O., and a brother, Charles Fuller of Ashland.

Funeral services will be held in the Kenton A. M. E. church at 2 p. m. Saturday. Burial in Wolf Creek cemetery south of here.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Sinustitis.

Recently I told you something about nasal sinusitis. You will recall that I described the hollow spaces in the bones of the skull, telling you that these open into the inside of the nose. Sinusitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining these spaces.

This annoying condition is a rather common disorder of adults. But few, perhaps, realize that it may afflict children as well as the grown-ups. Indeed, it is often a more serious disorder in the young than it is in the adult.

The probable reason is that the youngster has not developed that degree of immunity or protection against disease which the older person is likely to possess. Since sinusitis often lead to other disturbance of the body, it is important to guard the young child against this danger.

The germs that produce sinusitis develop certain toxins or poisons. These substances may be absorbed into the blood stream and carried to the vital organs. Consequently the gall bladder, liver, heart or kidneys may become infected or irritated. Many chronic disorders are caused in this way.

The young victim of chronic sinusitis usually has a "running nose," but otherwise appears to be in good health. Of course, I do not mean that a child with a running nose is necessarily the victim of sinusitis. But if he has fever and the nose continues to discharge, acute sinusitis should be suspected.

A child with fever and evidence of infection of any part of the upper air passages should be confined to bed. Medical care should not be delayed. Early treatment makes the cure easier and the restoration to health more complete.

If the sinuses are involved, it is a good plan to use a "croup" kettle. Nowadays an electric one can be purchased at a small cost. Place in it a pint of water to which has been added a teaspoon of compound tincture of benzoin. This gives off a soothing vapor. When inhaled it promotes the comfort a lot.

Have the little patient protected from cold winds and draughts. Keep the temperature of the room at about 68 or 70 degrees. The youngster should be kept in bed until the fever disappears.

Encourage the child to drink plenty of water. Include in the daily diet nutritious foods, such as milk, cream, cereal, butter and eggs. In addition, give him cod liver oil. If weather permits, exposure to the sun is of great value.

I have told you some of the things your doctor is likely to advise. But you leave the treatment to him.

Answers to Health Queries

F. L. K. (Q.—I wonder if you could tell me how to get rid of psoriasis. I've had this skin trouble for several years.

A.—Skin disturbances of long standing are difficult to clear up. For full particulars restate your question and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. S. Q—What causes bleeding while evacuating the bowels? Is piles dangerous in this condition? What remedy would you advise?

A.—This symptom may be due to piles. To correct piles it is essential to overcome constipation. For further particulars restate your question and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

Marion Slams Out 16 Hits In 9-5 Win Over Tiffin

635-Pound 'Human Blimp' To Wrestle Here Monday

Broader Than Tall, Mammoth Martin Levy Has Never Been Tossed—Or Budged—Top Shovel Card

Customers of the weekly wrestling programs at the Shovel arena will be in for unusual entertainment next Monday when "the human blimp" in the form of 635-pound Martin Levy of Boston is scheduled to perform. He will be the principal in one of the two featured bouts which top the card.

Levy, although tipping the scales at more than a quarter of a ton, has been in the wrestling game more than five years and during that time has never been thrown. His opponent Monday will be an unidentified 190-pound wrestler, who will step into the ring bearing only the monicker, of "The Spook." The bout will be a regulation 90-minute affair with the best two falls to win.

In the other headline affair, which will be the finale, two western huskies, Ken Hollis of Albuquerque, N. M., and brown-skinned Ted Travis of Hollywood, Calif., will exchange holds. Both were on the battle royal program last week and contributed their share of the tactics that drew the loud voiced contempt of a capacity audience.

"Meanies" To Meet.

Hollis lost to Sergeant Bob Kenaston in the 45-minute semi-final and Travis lost the main go by disqualification to Cecil McGill. The westerners are heartily disliked by Marion mat addicts and the opportunity to see them hand the rough blows to each other, rather than to a clean opponent, probably won't be missed by many who saw them in action last week.

The first bout, a 20-minute preliminary, will open the program at 8:30 o'clock. The scraps are scheduled for the outdoor arena on Uncapher avenue but may be moved under cover to the Marion Steam Shovel in the event of inclement weather. Probability that Gene Morris, six-foot member of the pitching staff of Marion's Ohio State league baseball team, will referee the preliminary encounter, was announced today by promoters. Morris, who hails from Moberly, Mo., has come in contact with the mat game in his home state, where his father is a promoter.

Interest will be spotlighted on the big Bostonian, who is making his initial appearance in this section of the grappling world. Levy measures six feet in height, and he's even farther around the waist than that. When he rides by train, he doesn't travel in the conventional day' coach or pullman style, but instead, because of his bulk, rides in the baggage coach.

Fills Office Elevator.

Levy will come to Marion, either in a specially built automobile or by truck, forced by his size to forego the pleasure of riding in an ordinary passenger car. Recently while visiting in a Toledo office building, Levy completely occupied an eight-passenger elevator, allowing only enough room for the operator to squeeze into a corner where the controls were located.

It may even be necessary for Marion promoters to literally "shove back the walls" of the arena to permit his entrance according to advance notice received here. Levy would probably not encounter any trouble passing through the wide entrances to the scene of battle, but promoters are wondering just how he's going to squeeze through an ordinary sized dressing room door. His method of getting into the ring is unique enough. Levy walks up to the ringside and after the ropes have been removed from one side, he rolls into the center of the mat.

COLUMBUS TAKES JR. LEGION TITLE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 23—Frank Ilg Post of Columbus succeeded Middletown today as State American Legion junior baseball champion to enter the National regional tournament at Flint, Mich., Aug. 11.

The Columbus team nosed out Pomeroyville in the 10th inning yesterday, 10 to 9, by virtue of two home runs in the ninth.

With the entire batting line-up of Marion's baseball club becoming a "murderers' row," the Geyganites brought home the bacon from Tiffin yesterday, after walloping the Mud Hens 9 to 5.

Marion had little trouble in collecting 16 hits, good for 25 bases, off two Tiffin pitchers. The game went but eight innings, being called by darkness. The victory, coupled with Mansfield's 6 to 2 humiliation at Fremont, permitted Marion to gain one game on the league leaders and today stand five out of first place. Findlay drubbed the Fostoria Red Birds, 13 to 6, in another Ohio State league encounter.

Returning to the home lot today for a doubleheader with Mansfield, the Marion club stands on the threshold of opportunity. With the possibility of cutting down the leadership margin of the Red Sox, Marion today looms as the only serious pennant contender with the exception of the pace-setters, Tiffin and Findlay, both more than 11 games out of first place, are within a half-game of each other, and waging a merry battle for a permanent grip on the third spot.

Geygan Slugs Away

Manager Chappie Geygan garnered the heavy slugging honors in yesterday's conflict with Tiffin, by getting a home run, double and single in four trips to the plate. Catcher Bill Mulvihill, for the second time in as many days, got three hits in the same number of attempts, one going for two bases. Harvey Ender, left fielder, collected two doubles and Stan Platek got a double and two singles, to contribute heavily to Marion's hitting column.

Third Sacker Mike Harris, who turned in no less than four nice hot grounders that likely would have sizzled past most infielders, must have felt somewhat lonely in being the only member of the

621 GOLF AMATEURS TO SEEK U. S. TITLE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 23—Defending Champion Johnny Fischer and 620 other golfers from Maine to California have filed entries for this year's National amateur championship, to be played Aug. 23 to 28 at the Alderwood country club in Portland, Ore., the United States Golf association announced today.

Of these 621 entrants, five in addition to Fischer will not have to take part in the sectional qualifying rounds. All past titleholders are automatically qualified.

CHICAGO, NEW YORK TEAMS OPEN SERIES IN BOTH LEAGUES

Trosky Socks Two Homers in Tribe's Win Over Athletics; Reds Edged, 6-5.

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Writer

Mr. John Q. Fan packed politics, war and his creditors away with the winter underwear today and settled down to the more important business of watching the Chicagoans and the New Yorks go to work on each other in the baseball season's most "crooc1al" series.

The Cubs and Giants, tangling in a National league race that's as close as Broadway and 42nd street, opened a three-game party at the Polo grounds, from which the pennant-winner is likely to stagger.

The Yankees and White Sox, running one-two in the American league, wheel their big guns into action at Comiskey park, Chicago, and start a four-game fuss that may decide whether Murderers' Row is to make another joke of the junior circuit pennant parade.

Giants Top Reds

The stage was set yesterday for the start of these important get-togethers when the Giants topped the Reds 6-5 and the Cubs dropped a 7-4 heartbreaker to the Phillies, the net result of which left Bill Terry's Terriers only a game away from their pace-setting sparring partners. Wally Berger came through again with a ninth inning homer to beat the Reds, and the Phils put on a seven-run splurge in the eighth to take a sure thing from the Cubs.

While the White Sox were idle, the Yankees wound up on the short end of a hit parade with the Browns, losing 13-4. This surprise package ended the six-game winning streak of the swat squad, snapped Joe DiMaggio's 22-game consecutive hitting run, and left the world champions a mere seven games in front of the American league pack.

The New York Giants will throw King Carl Hubbell, once again the Giant mealticket, against Curt Davis in the first game of the series. The Giants, fielding a crippled infield, can't hope for much after Hubbell gets through.

Those two outfits now appear the only clubs in the race. The Cards found Boston's brilliant pitching staff too much yesterday for the fourth straight game and dropped a 2-0 decision to Danny MacFayden. The Pirates, headed by Red Lucas' four-hit flinging, had little difficulty walloping the Dodgers 10-1.

Detroit's Tigers battered the Boston Red Sox 17-4, featuring four

Marion Junior Legion Downed By Ada, 4 to 3

Marion's Junior Legion team was defeated, 4 to 3, at Ada yesterday afternoon. Ada opened the scoring with three runs in the third, added another in the fifth, while Marion was blanked until the seventh.

Dillinger, Marion hurler, kept the opposing club's eight hits well scattered, except in the third when three singles and an error produced three runs. The defeat gives the Marion team a record of three wins in six starts this season, while the victory was the second in eight games for Ada.

The box score follows:

RED BIRDS DEFEATED BY INDIANS, 4-1, BUT REMAIN IN A. A. RACE

Minneapolis, in First, Loses to Battling Kels, 8-6; Toledo Downed.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 23—Minneapolis and Columbus are finding the going rough in their efforts to take a clear lead in the American association pennant scramble.

The two clubs remained virtually tied today after being defeated last night. Columbus bowed to Indianapolis 4 to 1, with Lloyd Johnson winning his seventh game by holding the Red Birds to six hits. His mates rapped out 10 safeties off of Johnny Chambers.

Milwaukee's champion Brewers looked like champions as they shoved over three runs in the ninth to come from behind and lick Minneapolis 8 to 6. Al Milner went the distance for the victors, holding the heavy-sticking Kels to nine hits as the Brewers were making 13 off Wagner and Grabowski.

St. Paul defeated Kansas City 12 to 5, getting all but two of its runs in the first three frames. Art Herring went the route for the Saints and held the Blues to eight hits as the victors were collecting 18 safeties.

In a fourth night contest Louisville defeated Toledo, 7 to 6, in 14 innings.

Turning in a shut-out victory in Industrial softball league competition last night, the Marion Steam Shovel aggregation continued to hold its grip on first place, remaining in front of its nearest rival by a slight half-game margin. The Shovel outfit trounced Osgood's entry, 11 to 0, and the second place Keytown Camp club scored a 6 to 5 win over Excavator.

Huber's team, defeated, 5 to 3, by Fairfield, remained in third place but dropped to two full games behind the leaders. The Defiance Pressed Steel team, which up until several weeks ago was undefeated and then dropped to fourth place, staged a comeback last night by drubbing the Omar Baking entry, 13 to 2.

Of the leading teams which turned in victories last night, the Keytown Campers had the narrowest squeak. Three runs each in the first and second innings, saved the day for the Campers, when they were unable to score during the remainder of the game, but succeeded in holding the Excavator sluggers to five runs off 11 hits.

All the Industrial loop teams have played at least eight of the 14-game schedule and as they come pounding down the stretch, the crucial battles will probably be those which previously were postponed or finished in extra-inning deadlocks. Three games have ended in tie scores and one has been postponed. The scores of last night's games follow:

Excavator	010 400 0—5	11	1
Keytown Camp	330 000 *—6	10	0

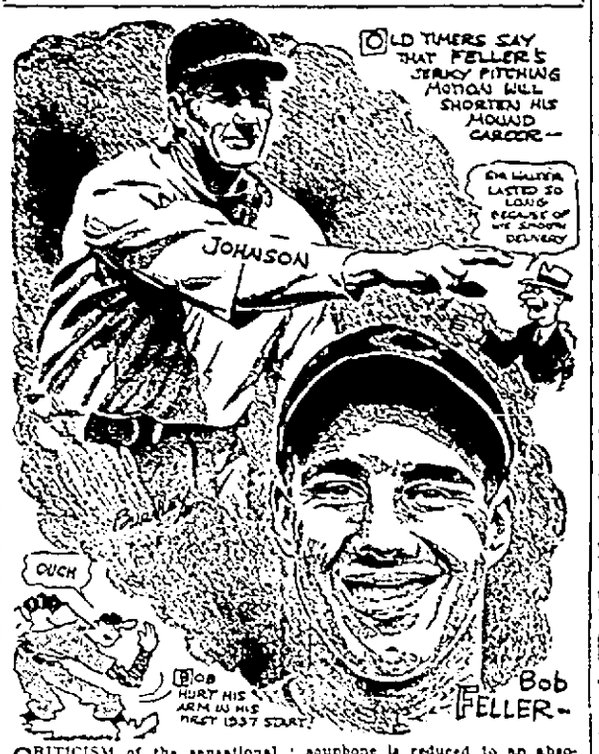
Diamond Form And 'Fire' Arms



OLD TIMERS SAY THAT FELLER'S JERKY PITCHING MOTION WILL SHORTEN HIS MOUND CAREER—
HE WON'T LASTED SO LONG BECAUSE OF HIS SMOOTH DELIVERY
JOHNSON
OUCH
BOB HURT HIS ARM IN HIS FIRST 1937 START
Bob FELLER

CRITICISM of the sensational Bob Feller's pitching delivery goes on, as the youngster is recovering from an arm injury sustained in his very first 1937 start.

It seems that the ticklers for perfect hurling form don't like Feller's arm motion. They say he doesn't "follow through" enough, and that he doesn't get his body into the pitch. In other words, Bullet Bobby is labelled as just an "arm" pitcher.

A fire ball firer who puts all the strain on his wing is liable to burn out quickly. On the other hand, "fire" arms can last a long time if the pitcher uses a smooth motion which gets his body behind the pitch. In that way, the wear and tear on the precious soupbone is reduced to an absolute minimum.

Examples of perfect pitching motions, in this sense, are fairly numerous. Sir Walter Johnson, greatest of all speed slingers, lasted for a couple of decades because of his relaxed arm motion. Herb Pennock also attributed his twirling longevity to a marvelously smooth technique on the Matty and Alexander had perfect "follow throughs," while among present-day moundsmen, Dizzy Dean's delivery is a masterpiece of body action.

Still, that young Feller may fool all the pitching pundits just as completely as he fools the sluggers. Also, his delivery may acquire a lot more polish as he gains experience.

team to go hitless again Tiffin. Gordon "Slim" Mann, Marion's ace right-hander, was on the mound during the entire ball game. In addition to keeping the Hens' nine hits scattered, Mann walked but three batters and struck out five.

Marion Scores Early

The Geygantes didn't wait for an invitation to score but shoved single runs across in the first, second and fourth innings, while Mann was hurling shut-out ball. Eader's double to left, Platek's single and then a double steal gave Marion its first inning tally. In the following frame Geygan scored after doubling to left and advancing on Mulvihill's single.

With two out in the fourth, Mulvihill walked, and singles by Mann and Stiewe, gave Marion a 3 to 0 lead. Two singles and a walk accounted for Tiffin's first run, and Marion came back to turn in fifth inning rally that proved almost fatal to the Hens. After Stan Platek grounded to the pitcher, Ted Swed opened the rally with a double that rattled off the scoreboard and Karl Kauffman, followed suit with a similar drive. Manager Geygan, going his proteges one better, lifted a hit over the scoreboard that went for a round trip ticket. With three runs in, Harris was tossed out on a bounder to third. Mulvihill doubled and Mann popped to second to end the inning.

With a six to three lead going into the eighth frame, Marion continued to pile up runs, apparently for a rainy day. Singles by Mulvihill and Platek, coupled with Eader's two-base drive and a fielding error, accounted for three runs in the eighth. Tiffin came back in the final half of the inning to tally two runs, but fell far short of knotting the count.

Reds Trounce Mansfield

The Fremont Reds took advantage of Al Veigle's wildness in the opening inning against Mansfield yesterday at Fremont, scoring six runs on three walks and four hits to win over the Red Sox, 6 to 2. Spinetti set the league-leading Sox down with four hits, gave six passes to first and struck out four.

In a free hitting contest at Findlay yesterday, the Browns defeated the Fostoria Red Birds, 13 to 6. Six two-baggers, a triple and home run featured Findlay's 18-hit attack on George Jenkins, Fostoria southpaw. George Frieberger allowed the Red Birds 13 blows, including Pete Kraus5 home run.

SCHMELING RATED NO. 1 CONTENDER FOR TITLE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 23—The championship ratings committee of the National Boxing Association recognized Max Schmeling today as the No. 1 contender for the heavyweight championship held by Joe Louis.

The committee said "pure sportsmanship" decreed a title shot for Schmeling within six months. It said it would recommend that the N. B. A. declare the title vacant unless the German boxer gets this opportunity against the Detroit Negro.

Schmeling defeated Louis before the latter won the title from Jim Braddock.

The committee made public ratings in all weights, based on performances of the last three months.

The heavyweight ratings in order:

Louis, Schmeling, Braddock, Bob Pastor of New York, Alberto Lovell of Argentina, Tommy Farr of England, Al McCoy of Boston, Nathan Mann of New York, Al Ettore of Philadelphia, Arturo Godoy of Chile, and Bob Nemell of Los Angeles.

Champions and the leading contenders in the other divisions:

Light heavyweight, John Henry Lewis of Phoenix, Ariz., and Al Gainer of New Haven, Conn.

Middleweight, Freddie Steel of Tacoma, Wash., and Billy Conn of Pittsburgh.

Welterweight, Barney Ross of Chicago, and Glenn Lee of Los Angeles.

Lightweight, Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., and Pedro Montanez of Puerto Rico.

Featherweight, Petey Sarron of Birmingham, Ala., and Jackie Wilson of Pittsburgh.

homers in their attack. Hal Trosky clouted two homers as the Indians whipped the Athletics 5-1. The Senators were idle.

Reds Meet Phils

Losers in a three-game series with the New York Giants, the Cincinnati Reds shifted to Philadelphia today and sent Wild Bill Hallahan to the mound against Bucky Walters.

The Boston Red Sox came to Cleveland today for a four game series with the Indians, and the Tribe needed to win all four games to move into the first division in the American league standings.

The Indians were just three games behind Boston as the series opened, but their chances of moving into fourth place were dimmed by the fact that Roy Hughes will be out of the lineup for an indefinite time.

Hughes' throwing hand was split yesterday as the second sacker stopped a bounding drive by pinch hitter Lynn Nelson of the Philadelphia Athletics.

BIG LEAGUE SCOUT TO WATCH YOUTHS

COLUMBUS, O., July 23—Pat Crawford, a member of the St. Louis Cardinal organization, will head the scouting contingent that will pass judgment on the boys who will attend the baseball tryout camp to be conducted here at Red Bird Stadium, starting Monday, Aug. 2, it was announced today by Donald E. Beach, president of the Cardinal-owned Columbus club of the American Association, which will sponsor the camp. Boys from 17 to 23 may try out.

CLEVELAND—Patsy Perroni, 153½, New York, outpointed Jack Trammell, 151½, Youngstown, O. (10).

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK—Ernie Dusek, 218, Omaha, Neb., threw Abe Coleman, 203, Los Angeles, 32.43.

ST. LOUIS—George Zaharias 237, Colorado, flattened Nanjo Singh, 215, Bombay, India, 1:35, crotch hold. Jim McMillen, 222, Illinois, defeated Juan Humberto, 218, South American, 40:30, body slam.

FAIR AMATEUR GOLFERS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., July 23—The United States Golf association announced today pairings for the sectional qualifying rounds for the national amateur championship to be held at the Camargo club, Madeira, and at the Portage country club Akron, July 27. The number of places are to be announced later.

OHIO MEN WIN SHOOT

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 23—H. E. Smith of Vandalia, O., held the International Autothemic handicap championship of the international trapshooting tournament today, having broken 100 straight targets from the 19-yard line. Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro, O., won the regulation 50-target event in the open amateur field after two shootoffs. He and four others tied at 48 out of 50 targets, then Hiestand and Ed Luyben of Nashville, Tenn., tied with 23 out of 24 in the first shootoff. Hiestand broke 23 while Luyben cracked 19 in the second shootoff.

EARLY STOCK GAINS PARED

Fast Opening Converted Into Profit Selling Crawl; Bonds Uneven.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 23—A fast opening on the upside in today's stock market quickly turned into a profit selling crawl and initial gains of fractions to 2 points were pared or cancelled.

Highly pleasing earnings statements continued to buoy individual stocks.

Bonds and commodities were uneven as were the principal foreign currencies.

Shares retaining advances up to a point or so were Bethlehem Steel, Crucible, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, J. I. Case, Oliver Farm, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, Cerro De Pasco, Loew's, American Locomotive, Atlantic Coast Line, American Water Works, and Macy.

About unchanged to lower were Goodyear, Goodrich, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, National Lead, Motor Products, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, General Electric, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, American Telephone and Western Union.

An aid to the stock buying side was the week-end review of Dun & Bradstreet disclosing a further increase in public spending. Most merchandising divisions, it was said, moved forward and signs of the end of summer slackness were more definite.

The survey placed retail sales for the country as a whole at from 2 to 6 per cent ahead of the preceding week and 8 to 20 per cent above the same period last year.

Most interest was exhibited in the treasury's statement showing a decrease in gold holdings of $41,800,000 as of July 20, the largest set-back since dollar revaluation. The loss was believed due principally to the workings of the tripartite monetary agreement.

LIVERPOOL PRICES BOOST WHEAT HERE

New Breaks in Corn Values, However, Partially Offset Increases.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 23—Sharp rallies of Liverpool quotations led to higher wheat prices in Chicago early today. Acting more or less as an offset were decided new breaks in corn values.

Opening ½@1¼ cents up, September 1.19¼@¾, December 1.21¾@¼, Chicago wheat futures then reacted somewhat. Corn started ½ lower to 1¾ higher, July 1.12⅞@12⅝, September 1.02⅝@¾, December 77@77¾, but soon underwent an all around setback.

DEVICE MADE FOR ACCURATE MINING

By United Press

PLATTEVILLE, Wis.—Clarence L. Bevan, Platteville inventor, has perfected a mineral detector which he believes will be error-proof in finding ore deposits.

After three years of experimentation, Bevan said, the detector has been tested successfully. He has applied for a patent.

Bevan said the mineral finder "reacts on the conductivity of the ground, including strates of clay, ochre, rock and minerals.

"An electric current is produced that is measured over the entire area with a superSensitive detecting instrument," he said.

The inventor said that the success of the ore detector was revealed by drilling holes in the ground and revealing lead veins after the instrument had disclosed the mineral's presence.

NEW NAVY PLAN STARTED HERE

Recruiting Officer Comes For First in Schedule of Bi-Weekly Visits.

Inaugurating a new system of recruiting men for the United States navy, H. E. Trusler, chief petty officer in charge of the Lima recruiting station, made the first of a series of bi-weekly visits here today to interview applicants. The new system is in line with the naval expansion program which outlines plans for building up the navy to 100,000 men by July 1, 1938, he said.

He will be stationed in Room 14 at the postoffice every alternate Friday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Lunch hour will be from noon to 12:30 p. m. The applicants may enter through the South State street entrance, he said.

11 Counties in District

Marion and Hardin counties are among the 11 in the Lima district. Previously applicants were forced to make four or five trips to Lima to complete their applications and examinations and the new system will mean a saving of both time and money, he explained.

Today Mr. Trusler interviewed one applicant, James A. Tetato of Canby court, who probably will be accepted in August. Recruits from Marion go to Cincinnati for final examinations, then either to Norfolk, Va., or the Great Lakes naval training station north of Chicago. After 12 weeks of training they are sent to sea, usually to the west coast. Before going to sea, they are given a 15-day leave to visit parents.

Mr. Trusler explained today that contrary to the prevalent belief, applicants need not be high school graduates. He said generally men with grade school education can pass the examinations.

Advancement Provision

The pay of $21 a month is not low in view of the opportunity for advancement, Mr. Trusler said in response to inquiries from several persons. After 16 weeks of training, men with good records are automatically raised to $36 a month. In 10 years they can reach $126 a month and chief petty officer rank. The highest pay for enlisted men is $157.50 a month. Board and room are always paid by the government.

Mr. Trusler said the navy attempts to enlist only "the cream of the nation," especially in peace time in order to build up an efficient staff of petty officers for war times.

DIVER PROBES FOR "MONSTER" IN RIVER

Amplifier Keeps Crowd on Bank in Touch With Arkansas Search.

By The Associated Press

NEWPORT, Ark., July 23—A professional diver went ahead with his quest for the White river "monster" today in a country fair atmosphere.

Chamber of Commerce sponsors of Charles R. Brown's submarine adventure rigged up a loudspeaker system so hundreds lining the banks could have a "play-by-play" account of his forays into batsman's eddy.

For those tiring of the search there was dancing on a pavilion and no one went away hungry if he had the price of a sandwich, slice of watermelon or soft drink dispensed at nearby stands.

Brown, a former navy diver now employed by the U. S. engineers at Memphis, said after yesterday's explorations that he found no overturned boat or undercurrent of air that would send up bubbles.

Skeptics have expressed the belief the big creature was nothing more than a scow that occasionally came to the surface of the eddy. Those who reported they had seen the "monster" said it occasionally blew bubbles surfaceward.

The diver spent almost three hours in exploring an area about 50 feet square. He was prepared to continue the search through Sunday if necessary.
